Override Rejected

Tow and one-half year old Lindsay Corcoran couldn't vote but she observed the action from an unusual vantage point Monday as voters overwhelmingly rejected overriding school building project costs placed some new members on town boards.

Local Industries Provide 'Think Tank' For Town

By Sue Aucella Deacon

A new means of analyzing Andover's expenses in detail never possible before, and comparing them to those of other communities, is now in the hands of town officials, with the help of four local industries.

GCA Corporation, Digital Equipment Corporation, Hewlett-Packard Company and Wang Laboratories — all current or future tenants of Andover — have donated the services of the MITRE Corp. to Andover for one year, at a cost of $4,000.

MITRE, described by the town manager as "an MIT think tank that is mostly defense-oriented," offers municipalities a "Community Data Base" service, a package of comprehensive information on town and school spending.

The package of information is the product of computer analysis of reports that municipalities file with the state each year. The first report for Andover is based on information from 1980-81.

The "very precise calculations" included in the report, as well as the comparison with other communities, would not be possible for Andover to accomplish on its own; the town has neither the "very sophisticated computers" nor the staff, Town Manager Kenneth R. Mahony told the TOWNSMAN last Friday.

"It's a pretty impressive package of tools they've given us, and now we're learning how to use them," Mahony said. "It's a decision-making tool that we think is pretty valuable."

Among the information officials can take from the report is a cost analysis of salaries and an evaluation of salary policies, which can be used in salary negotiations, and the cost of salary negotiations. The MITRE service can also come up with a five-year forecast of various salary options and show the impact of each option on the tax rate.

On the school side, the report offers detailed analysis of per-pupil costs, for example, including teaching, textbooks and guidance services, and suggests whether per-pupil expenditures could be more cost-effective.

The report is a thick volume that includes statistics, graphs and charts on every aspect of every town and school department. And one of its most illuminating features is the comparison with other, similar towns, Mahony indicated.

"I was rather surprised to see that in most cases, Andover is right down the middle," the manager said of those cost comparisons. "It's not way down, and it's not way up."

Studying the report should give officials a better understanding of where money is being spent in Andover, he added. "It helps pinpoint areas of distortion. If there is one department that is costing more, it will show it. It doesn't mean it's right or wrong, but that it's a place to look. It could show us areas to improve on."

The report will come in handiest during budget discussions, Mahony noted. "We'll go into budgeting with a more logical way of making decisions. It's a completely impartial observer — towns can be very good at rationalizing things."

MITRE ran Andover's statistics through its computers about two weeks ago, and delivered an initial report last week. Since then, Finance and Budget Director Anthony Torrisi has been busy correcting "errors and inconsistencies" in the report that resulted from quirks in the state reports used as a base. The town will send corrected information back to MITRE for a final report.

When the corrected report is in, Mahony will make a formal presentation to the selectmen, he said, probably not until after town meeting. He will also make the full report public at that time. In the meantime, he will share the initial data with School Supt. Kenneth Seifert.

Apart from Torrisi's time, the report will cost the town nothing in money or manpower this year, the manager said. But if it proves to be "worthwhile" and officials decide to continue the service, it would cost $4,000 to $5,000 per year.

The four industries that have funded the MITRE report originally had the study done for their own use. But after reviewing it, they "realized it could be very helpful to the town, and decided to pass it along," Mahony explained.

GCA President Milton Greenberg, an Andover resident, played a large part in securing the report for Andover, and former selectman Susan Poore was "instrumental" as well, the manager said.

According to Mahony, Poore took a number of questions to the four industries, all members of the Massachusetts High Technology Council, and persuaded them to make the MITRE information available to town officials.

A Call From Cleveland; Champagne From A Competitor

Susan Poore and her son Danny review the election returns on Monday night electing her to three-year-term on School Committee.

A defeated competitor came bearing champagne. A new colleague called in his congratulations from Cleveland, Ohio. And the successful candidate's husband didn't even know his wife had just been elected to the School Committee, and as the top vote-getter at that.

"Gates is in Saudi Arabia on business," Susan Poore explained, calculating that she would be able to reach her husband with the news on Tuesday night at the earliest.

By midnight at the Poore household on Osgood Street, all but a few last supporters had left the victory celebration, and the excitement of the evening was over. But Poore was still lively as she described how Committeeman Donald Robb had called from Cleveland, and defeated candidate Donald Michelinie had appeared at her door with a bottle of champagne.

Poore joins the school committee after six years as a selectman, and after a "quiet" but "fun" campaign that enlisted her sons and their friends.

The defeat of the Proposition 2½ override referendum question took Poore by surprise — a pleasant surprise, however, because she was one of the few candidates for office to support it. "My neck was very much out on the chopping block, all the way," she said.

Throughout the campaign, those in favor of the override were very much in evidence, she noted, while "the no's were silent. I wasn't sure where that silent majority was."

But during informal candidates' coffees, townspeople repeatedly made it clear they "didn't want their taxes increased," Poore added. "This was not luck. This was a real vote."

Her first goal is to help shape a new, tighter school budget to present to town meeting, one without the dramatic cuts in teaching staff and athletics that the school administration presented to the committee last week.

And she has "a really strong desire to open up the committee to the community."

People have been rather frustrated by their inability to reach the committee."

On the school superintendent, Poore said, "Dr. Seifert and the school committee clearly have a path laid out for them by the citizenry. I cannot believe for one minute that Dr. Seifert doesn't see that path as clearly as we do. We're all going to have to get used to each other and forget the past."

She added that the "strength" of the committee is that it is made up of "five nice people. We're not five people who are going to be fighting with each other. The people on this committee are very, very good."

Lucchesi Candidate For D.A.

Mario J. Lucchesi of Andover has announced his candidacy for the office of District Attorney for the County of Essex.

Having served as general counsel for the Massachusetts Appellate Tax Board and assistant general counsel for the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority, respectively, he was also chairman of the Andover Democratic Town Committee. He is now a public administrator for the County of Essex and is a practicing attorney.

Lucchesi is a member of the Essex, Lawrence and Boston Bar Associations and has engaged in various civic and charitable activities.

Neal Is Elected Chairman

Richard Neal, beginning the third year of his first term on the School Committee, was elected chairman of the committee Tuesday night before a large audience in the West Elementary School auditorium.

In his opening remarks, Neal said the effects of the new budget the committee must now fashion, after Monday's vote against the Prop. 2½ referendum question, would be felt not only next year, but for three or four years to come. "We have to look down the road," he cautioned.

The chairman invited new members Susan Poore and Robert Smith, sitting behind hand-lettered name cards, to offer their opening-night comments.

Smith said he would work to "re-store" the "credibility of this committee and the administration, which is at a low ebb."

"I would say ditto," Poore said, adding of the upcoming budget process, "I have every confidence this committee can deal with this budget. I have no intention of going to town meeting in a state of disorder."

Schoolman Michael Giammusso, starting his second year on the committee, was once again elected secretary.

Personnel Matters Approved

During their first meeting Tuesday night, the new Andover School Committee approved three teachers' requests for leaves of absence during the 1982-83 school year, and two resignations.

The leaves of absence were approved for Cynthia Ambrogne-O'Toole, a teacher of a perceptually handicapped class at East Junior High and an Andover teacher since 1979, who requested an unpaid leave to pursue her education; Francis Kennedy, Jr., a high school science teacher since 1964, an unpaid leave for personal reasons; and Anne Kirk, a moderate special needs teacher at East since 1977, a child-rearing leave.

Joan Johnson, an instructional aide at West Elementary School who worked five hours per week, has resigned for personal reasons. She had worked as an aide since November, 1981.

Roger Roux, a third shift junior custodian at Andover High School, will resign March 26 for personal reasons. He has been with the schools since September, 1980.

Dates Set For Rabies Clinics

A Rabies Clinic, sponsored by the Andover Board of Health and conducted by Dr. Richard D. Lindsay, D.V.M., will be held on Saturday, April 3 and April 10, from 8:20 a.m. to 12 noon at the East Junior High School wood-working shop. Fee for the vaccination is $4. This is a three-year vaccine. Cats may be vaccinated at this time also. Cats should be vaccinated annually.

Under General Laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Chapter 217, of the Acts of 1969, all dogs six months of age or older shall be vaccinated against rabies by a licensed veterinarian and all vaccinated dogs must be re-vaccinated at intervals not exceeding 24 months. In accordance with a Town by-law, dog owners in Andover must present a rabies certificate before a new license can be issued.

Community Gardeners To Meet

The Andover Community Garden Association will have a meeting at Memorial Hall Library Tuesday, April 6, at 7:30 p.m. All members and individuals interested in the growing of fresh vegetables at their own expense, care and effort are invited to attend.

Giant Recycling Sale

Saturday, May 22, is the day set for Andover's Giant Recycling Sale at Draper Hall on the Abbot Academy grounds on School Street.

Just like its predecessor, the Recycling Auction, the sale will offer countless items in good condition for rock-bottom prices, in addition to a festive atmosphere and convenience. The hours will be from 10 a.m. until mid-afternoon.

Pickups are being made by members of Andover Recycling, Inc. and Boy Scout Troop 72. Donated items are beginning to come in as townspeople discover this ideal way of finding a new home for good used items.

Perhaps the star attraction of the goods collected so far is a twin bed set complete with headboards.

By sale day many other gently-used items of furniture, appliances, lawn care equipment, sporting goods and all manner of odds and ends will be available.

For information or pickups, call Mrs. James W. Beattie, Mrs. Clement Hutchins or Peter Stark.

Course For Nurses

"Concepts and Care of the Patients with an Orthopedic Problem," an all-day continuing education course for nurses, will be held at Lawrence General Hospital (LGH), Lawrence, Friday, April 16.

The course will include traction, total hip replacement, trauma care, nursing assessment, principles of immobilization and rehabilitation.

PROTECTING YOUR HOME

by Richard L. Sampson

AN UNFORTUNATE OMISSION

Police were dispatched to a suburban home recently, in response to an alarm. Although a siren was wailing, there was no outward sign of a break-in. After reporting that the house appeared secure, the police sped away to an accident scene across town.

Meanwhile, inside, two burglars were excitedly gathering "collectibles" — irreplaceable items which had been in the homeowner's family for three generations.

When the accomplice's car arrived, it was quickly loaded and away.

The total "haul"? — $80,000!

This actual experience illustrates the vital importance of providing for response by a trusted friend, with a key, to permit a police check of the interior and to reset the alarm system.

If you haven't provided at least the three alternate parties for secondary notification after an alarm at your home, call your alarm company today with additional names. Make sure that you don't have an "unfortunate omission" in your security system.

To Review Farm Land Values

Forest and farm land assessments will be reviewed on Tuesday, March 30, at 7:30 p.m. in the Theater Building, 11 Essex St., during a meeting sponsored by the Land Use Committee of the League of Women Voters of Andover. Tax relief may result if property qualifies under newly revised Chapter 61, the Forest Land Act, or Chapter 61A, the Agricultural Land Act.

Forester Jim Dennesen of the Haverhill office of the New England Forestry Association, a private, non-profit, educational organization, will present information and answer questions on forest land. Under the present newly revised G.L. 61, there is no maximum value per acre for forest products and forest land. If a woodland qualifies, the owner may apply for a special "use valuation" category which will bring assessment from 100 percent full and fair cash value down to five percent full and fair cash value. There are presently 16 or more woodland owners in Andover who could apply and qualify for this special assessment.

John B. Barrus of the Massachusetts Farm Bureau Federation will explain the chapter 61A general law. Farms over five acres in production can apply for special assessments.

The Board's Business Will Be Open

Bill Dalton shares a moment with his family, daughter Abigail, wife Carolyn, and sons Billy and Jack, on election night.

Annual town elections have been notable, in recent years, for the lack of interest they inspire in most townspeople.

But this week's election proved that "when there are real issues and real candidates, the people will come out," according to Atty. William Dalton of Old South Lane.

He should know; he's one of the "real candidates" who won the voters' nod as a selectman, joining incumbent Norma Gammon in a three-year term on the board. Dalton captured the majority vote as well.

"I feel good about it," a low-key but smiling Dalton said. "Especially when I think about the people who ran and didn't win. It was a good vote."

The new selectman and his family celebrated the good news in the elegant setting of the Abelson residence on Phillips Street Monday night, mingling with a houseful of guests while a pianist played "Pennies From Heaven." (Dr. Mark Abelson, Dalton said, is a long-time friend and supporter.)

Honors

Richard N. Leavitt, director of studies at Governor Dummer Academy, announced the High Honor Roll (3.3-4.0 cumulative) and Honor Roll (2.7-4.0 for the quarter) lists for the second marking period. Named to the High Honor Roll from Andover was Rebecca Riehl. Kimberly Adams, Elizabeth Higgins, Karen Matzner and David Starensier from Andover were named to the Honor Roll.

Cubs Hold Pinewood Derby

Cub Scouts of Pack 72 held their annual Pinewood Derby at the Free Christian Church, Andover. Ribbons were presented to all boys who entered.

Timothy Grogean and David Johnson were tied for the first place trophy in a hotly contested series of run-off races. They represented Den 2 and 5. Brendon Prout, Den 1, Tim Chapin, Den 3, and Michael Haggerty, Den 4 were winners in their dens. Manish Shah, Den 5, was the winner of the runners-up. Opening ceremonies were conducted by Den 4 and refreshments were provided by Den 1, led by Kay Grace.

Many badges were earned this month by boys in Pack 72. Bobcat badges were awarded to Stephen Neal, Brendon Prout, Mark Jones, Eric Patterson, Jeffrey Grace, Timothy Grogean, Keith Martin, Jared Scarpaci, Fred Tetreault, Matthew Calcina, Michael Haggerty, Aaron Haselton and Manish Shah. Wolf badges went to Scott Grogean, who also earned a gold arrow; Sean Spires, who won a gold arrow and three silver arrows; Ben Streeter, who picked up his gold arrow as well; and Stephen Kessler, who won a gold and a silver arrow. Peter Dennett and Jason Milovanovic, who already had earned their Wolf badges, earned another silver arrow each. The theme for March is Advancement in Rank, and the boys, with their good heads-tart, will be working their way up the ladder of achievement.

Cubmaster Ralph Arabian introduced Pack 72's new committee members: Ron Tetreault, chairman, Gary Streeter, Assistant cubmaster, Susan Dennett, secretary, Tom Grogean, treasurer, Jackie Milovanovic, advancement chairman, and other den mothers and dads, Kay Grace, Joe Calcina, Carol Ann Waldie, June Grant, and Bob Kessler.

clear vote. It says that people think the town is spending too much money."

Although he said he "personally favored the override," Dalton promised to "work very hard to live within the limits of a restricted budget, and hope it doesn't seriously lower the quality of our schools and town services."

Like Gammon, Dalton named the reuse of East Junior High as his top priority, saying he hopes to help form a plan for the building in time for town meeting.

"Up until now I was looking at it as an outsider," he noted. "Now, as a town official, I hope to get the plan in some kind of shape for town meeting."

"I think we have enough to keep us busy until town meeting," he added.

His second priority is to see the business of the board of selectmen done as openly as possible, Dalton added. "I've been a little concerned in the last couple of years that there is a sensed lack of openness on the board," he explained.

"We have an open meeting law in this state, and that law has got to be strictly complied with. That's what the law says, that's what the people want, and that's certainly the way I want it."

Dalton offered his congratulations to the other winners of the day, and to all who ran for their efforts.

"It was nice to see a good number of candidates," he commented. "It was an interesting election."

East Building Reuse A Top Priority

The airy living room of Norma Gammon's Abbot Street home was decorated with daffodils and crowded with familiar faces Monday night: Selectmen Donn Byrne and Gerald Silverman, former selectman James Abramson, former town manager Jared S.A. Clark.

They were all on hand to celebrate Gammon's election to a second term on the Board of Selectmen, and the mood was decidedly upbeat.

"I'm delighted, just delighted," a hoarse Gammon (victim of laryngitis) said of her victory. "I'm ready to get back in there now and go to work."

She was far from delighted, however, with the defeat of the Proposition 2½ override question. "I'm very disappointed that that went down. I think it will severely hurt the school system. It really upsets me."

Cuts in the school budget may have a domino effect on the town side of the budget as well. Gammon said: "I think we'll be looking at what other facilities we might lose. We'll be questioning a lot of other services on the town side, looking at our budget and other ways to cut.

"It's going to be a very rough town meeting," she predicted.

The selectman's "number-one priority" in the weeks ahead: developing a plan for the reuse of East Junior High that town meeting will approve. The use of that building is important because it will effect the entire downtown area, she explained, including plans to expand Memorial Hall Library.

And second on her list of goals is securing a Route 93 interchange in Lowell Junction, an elusive dream the town's selectmen have been pursuing for some 25 years.

Gammon said she was pleased with this year's relatively large voter turn-out, and attributed it to the referendum question. "But unfortunately, they were not voting the way I would have liked to see," she added.

Don and Norma Gammon's younger daughter, Erin, fell asleep in her clothes an hour before the final returns came in at 9:30 Monday night, but ten-year-old Dainia hung on to hear that her mother had won.

Her first question, according to Gammon: "Mommy, does this mean you have to go to more meetings?"

The selectman laughed. "I told her it would be the same amount of meetings."

Then she got ready to cut a cake bearing her campaign slogan: "One good term deserves another."

Student In England Seminar

Mallory MacDonald of Andover was among the 25 students from Carleton College in Northfield, Minn., who spent this winter in London, England, as part of a seminar sponsored by Carleton's English department.

The seminar focused on the literature and culture of England, and included courses on Shakespeare and contemporary drama and London in fiction and poetry. A fall term reading course was also required as part of the program.

Carleton, a selective, coeducational liberal arts college of 1,700 students, offers many opportunities for overseas study, and also sponsors programs in France, Japan, Germany, India, Mexico, Spain and other countries each year.

A junior English major, MacDonald is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Drake, Salem Street, and is a graduate of Andover High School.

The largest painting ever painted was the "Panorama of Mississippi," completed in 1846 by John Banvard. It took spectators two hours to view all of the 12-foot high, 16,000 foot long picture.

'Students, Teachers Are The Most Important'

Robert Smith's election night comments were interrupted repeatedly by friends saying good-night as they left his victory party.

But at 11 p.m., there were still enough people to fill three rooms of the new School Committeeman's house on Dundas Avenue: They clustered in the kitchen, stood around the dining room table, sat in intense conversation on the living room floor.

"All friends," Smith reported with quiet pleasure. "I've learned that there are a lot of nice people in Andover, willing to work and willing to help. I touched a lot of places during my campaign."

Committeeman Richard Neal, departing committee member John Eaton, Council on Aging President Thomas Powers and former Planning Board Chairman Patricia Curtin were spotted in the animated crowd, as children wandered from room to room and the telephone kept ringing.

"I'm excited," Smith said after winning his first bid for public office. "We have a big challenge ahead of us. There's a lot of work to do."

Unlike fellow school committee winner Susan Poore, Smith favored the Prop. 2½ override referendum question, but said he was "not surprised" by voters' rejection of the question.

"It's such a new law (Proposition 2½) and people thought we were trying to override it. Instead, they said, 'Live with it.' It was hard to sell it — I think there was an element (in the community) that was never going to be convinced."

How will the new committee deal with the budget cuts now in store? "It's hard to say," Smith answered, "but I think we'll try to keep as many teachers as possible. Students and teachers are the most important part of the system."

His goals for the next three years are also hard to define at this point, he added, but he emphasized his concern for the student, and for Andover's secondary schools.

Beyond that, "It's very difficult to implement new programs when you have to cut old programs."

The new committee member was pleased by the large number of voters who appeared at the polls, even though the majority voted against the referendum question.

Newly elected Bob Smith celebrates his victory at home with his family: Billy, 13, nephew Timmy and son Phillip, both 7, Cathy, 15, and his wife Lyn.

Childs Assumes Duties Quickly

John Childs

John Childs wasted no time getting into the swing of serving on the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational High School District Committee. The day after he was elected to a three-year term as Andover's representative on that committee, he was at the school, speaking with administrators and getting sworn into office.

And Tuesday night, he attended his first committee meeting as a voting member, with the school budget the main topic on the agenda.

"I feel wonderful," Childs said of his Monday victory. "I feel proud that the Andover voters picked me to represent them on the committee. It's a great responsibility."

The new committeeman celebrated with a small gathering of family and friends at his North Street home Monday night.

Childs believes effective campaigning put him into office. "I spoke at all the forums on my views of what should be done, I attended candidates' coffees and spoke out on the issues. I had my family and friends pamphletting. I was out talking to people, and I was available."

The main issues facing the committee, he said, are declining enrollment at the school, the need to develop shared-time and part-time programs, and the challenge of creating a budget that is "keeping within Proposition 2½."

"I feel that enrollment is very, very important," Childs said. On his visit to the vocational school Tuesday, he conferred with the superintendent and guidance counselors "about methods to get more eighth-graders interested in going to the school."

Love, Freedom Beamed Musically

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Mary Beakey Guziejka, a music specialist at the Sanborn School, has found herself in a musical frame of mind for the past few months. So the "explosion in Poland" that touched the world last December touched in her not just a desire for freedom from life's myriad problems, but a melody that had been playing in her head.

She put it all into a song for Poland.

Guziejka's "Polish Anthem" will be recorded at 4 p.m. Tuesday, March 30, at Durgin Hall at the University of Lowell. She will send recordings to President Reagan and Pope John Paul II. And she hopes, above all, that the BBC (British Broadcasting Corp.) will broadcast the recording, and send it into Poland via satellite.

"I picture this little beam with a little bit of me going into Poland," Guziejka says softly, reaching toward that imaginary beam in her Sanborn classroom. "It's all so unreal, and so real at the same time."

She is inviting the public to attend the recording of "A Polish Anthem" as a gesture of "love and freedom and brotherhood." Her anthem will be played by the University of Lowell Concert Band and sung by the university's Collegiate Chorale, with a solo sung in Polish by Dr. Alphonse M. Tatarunis of Andover.

Guziejka is not Polish, although her husband, Edward, is the son of Polish parents. Her empathy for the country was really inspired by letters from friends in England, she explains.

"You are so aware of the problems in Europe when you're living in London," she says. "It's so close — it's almost as if, for us here in New England, there was a war going on in New York City. Every letter that came was concerned with the struggles, the grief and anxiety in Poland."

Guziejka has known struggle and grief in her own life. A Lowell native, she lives in Dracut with her husband of 28 years and their youngest child, Amy, 12, who attends West Elementary School. They are also the parents of Susan, 26, and Eric, 22.

A serious back problem has left Edward Guziejka unable to work for many years, and Mary Guziejka responsible for supporting her family. A quiet woman with a gentle, always-present smile, she has been a teacher for 29 years, the past 14 of those years in Andover. She has also taught in Danvers, Nashua, N.H., Chelmsford and Bedford.

She received a bachelor's degree in music education from Lowell State College (now part of the University of Lowell), and has taken graduate courses at Boston University, Emmanuel College, the University of Lowell, and the University of London.

She counts her year at the University of London — from August of 1978 to the following August, on sabbatical from her Andover position — as a highlight of her career, and her life.

"I love teaching and I love children," she says of that year. "But after teaching for 26 years, I felt desperately fatigued and tired of myself. I felt a terrific need for renewal."

Granted a sabbatical, she moved her family (minus Susan) to London, and stayed until "we were down to our last pair of shoes. It was just the most wonderful experience."

She enrolled in the associateship program at the university, one "tailored to fit the individual teacher, and to meet the needs of the mature teacher." In addition to attending lectures and seminars, she did field work at schools all over the city, working with children of different ages. She worked with handicapped children as well.

The Guziejkas lived in a burrough outside of London, South Croydon, "at Robin's Court on Birdhurst Road — and the birds were beautiful." They lived on a shoestring, and without a car. "It was marvelous. I didn't miss the traffic, and I found out my legs existed."

She says, with enthusiasm still fresh, that she loved everything about London: the people ("We found such friendliness, such an outpouring of love"); the weather ("It was a little damp, but there were flowers for almost three seasons, crocuses in February"); the "antiquity" ("Everything is so young here, and so long-standing there — the abbeys, the cathedrals, the Roman baths, Stonehenge. You stop and think about everything that has happened there. I cried in every cathedral."

Guziejka returned to Sanborn in the fall of '79 "restored" and inspired — but without a room of her own. "I never had my own space. I was always pushing a piano and lugging in instruments."

Last year, however, she got a room, lined with cabinets filled with musical instruments, and she went to work on a special project to apply the teaching methods she had learned in London.

"I wanted to do something different, something to stimulate me. If you get bored with yourself, it shows, and then it's hard to teach." She came up with "Oriental Expressions."

She wrote songs and skits about the Orient for children in grades K through six at Sanborn, and the children wrote more than 60 songs of their own, along with stories and poems. They also studied Oriental culture, history and geography.

The program culminated in a performance for parents that combined songs, dance and poetry. Guziejka taped the performance, and had the children's music printed in a booklet.

Later she submitted a detailed report on the project to the University of London, explaining how she applied what she had observed in London to her teaching.

The report was accepted two months ago, and Guziejka has been named an associate of the Institute of Education at the university.

"Oriental Expressions" put the teacher in her musical frame of mind. She composed songs in her head while pursuing her other interests, swimming and running. She had never written music before, and suddenly found "the music going through my head all the time. It drives you crazy after a while."

There was one special melody that stayed with her, one she vaguely associated with freedom, "freedom from problems. Life is so fraught with problems." When martial law fell over Poland, she finally put her song on paper.

"I just wanted to call it 'A Polish Anthem. It speaks to the problem."

The music has been arranged by an English friend, Colin Evans, coordinator of music for the City of London, who happened to contact Guziejka just as she had written the anthem. "He said it couldn't have come at a better time."

Mary B. Guziejka

A series of trans-Atlantic telephone conferences followed — "My phone bill has been wild" — and with help from friends and colleagues at the University of Lowell, the recording session was arranged. Evans hopes to have the anthem broadcast by the BBC.

School projects like the recent Fine Arts Festival and an upcoming sixth-grade production of "Oliver" have kept Guziejka too busy to compose new music lately. But she longs to write more.

"It is so thrilling, hearing my music played by someone else. It is so meaningful to me to hear a child singing a song out in the corridor — a song that I have written."

Not Entirely Disappointing

Donald Michelinie accepted his defeat as a School Committee candidate with good grace this week, lightly turning aside condolences. "I'm not as disappointed as my

Historic Furnishings On Exhibit

To preserve and illustrate the life of New Englanders through a broad collecting policy and the preservation of historic homes has been the stated purpose of the Society of the Preservation of New England Antiquities since its founding.

Important examples from the SPNEA's collections of furniture, paintings, silver, ceramics, textiles, metals and glass that are used to furnish the society's historic houses and from their research and study collections have been brought together through the cooperative efforts of the SPNEA and the Museum of Our National Heritage, Lexington, in an exhibit, "Elegant Embellishments: Furnishings from New England Homes, 1660-1860," opening March 28 at the museum until Jan. 30, 1983.

What sets this exhibit apart from other surveys of American decorative arts is the extraordinary number of pieces that have been in continuous use in a particular house. Arranged chronologically, the exhibit of more than 130 objects begins with 17th-century furniture and proceeds through sections devoted to Queen Anne, Chippendale, Federal, Empire and the Victorian revivals. A separate section of painted furniture, 1800-1860, looks at the vernacular interpretations of high-style designs that relied on rightly painted decoration.

In each section, text and graphics orient visitors to the major stylistic developments in furniture and architecture. Examples of paintings and prints, silver, glass and ceramics from each of the periods complete a comprehensive view of New England furnishings over a period of 200 years.

wife is," he said Tuesday. "I'm pleased that I got such a good response."

He speculated that he might have succeeded "if I could have reached more people. It was a fairly low-key campaign, a zero-expense campaign. I went to all the formal speaking engagements that I was invited to, but I really only made a couple of appearances."

The defeat of the Prop. 2½ referendum question "did not mystify me," Michelinie said, adding that he had been against the override. Voters were probably concerned that the override involved "a large amount of money, for a long period of time. I think a more specific type of override might have been more acceptable."

He was surprised, however, by the number of voters who voted against the question, explaining that he had expected a much smaller margin in light of the efforts of the "yes" contingent during the campaign.

The Lowell Street resident pledged to stay interested and involved with the work of the school committee. "I intend to follow the board, attend their meetings, and help out wherever I can."

And a second bid for office may be in his future, Michelinie said: "There's a good chance I'll run next year."

In 1918, the first distinct and separate United States Employment Service was created within the Department of Labor; in 1933, the Wagner-Peyser Act replaced the old service with a new employment service created by matching federal funds with state funds, according to a publication of the U. S. Department of Labor.

Art Exhibit

The paintings of Fay Leonardson will be on display each weekday 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. through April 2 at the American Mutual Insurance Companies, Wakefield.

A student of Nancy Gambone of Wakefield, she has exhibited at the Hazelwood in Wakefield, the Artist Shoppe in Reading, and has had various other shows including a lobby show at American Mutual.

Her painting, "My Secret Place," had the distinction of being selected for the month of July in the 1982 American Mutual calendar.

In addition to her interest in art, Leonardson has been active in the Woman's Auxiliary of the Massachusetts Medical Society, the Woman's Auxiliary of the Middlesex East Medical Society and the Melrose-Wakefield Hospital Guild.

Identity May Have Been Costly

His identification with both the school building program and the Proposition 2½ referendum question probably led to his defeat as a School Committee candidate Monday, Kenneth Gropper said the following day.

The referendum question "became an economic issue," the school building committee chairman explained.

"People perceived it as an override of Proposition 2½, and it was never understood that 2½ has been amended by the state legislature — the Proposition 2½ of November 1980 no longer exists. The referendum was not asking voters to override 2½, but to take advantage of a home rule portion of 2½."

The referendum defeat also reflected the fact that townspeople believe the school budget is "bloated", Gropper added, and that they "did not agree with the way the administration has operated the schools. This was their way of expressing their view."

Gropper said he found it "really unfortunate" that "dollars and cents" eclipsed "how (the candidates) felt education should be delivered in this town" as the major campaign issue.

"Our end product is kids," he maintained. "They are the only issue."

But on the positive side of the campaign, "For the first time in recent memory, citizens got involved, on both sides of the issue. This is an absolute plus on the one hand. On the other hand, it will be an absolute crime if those same people now disappear from the scene."

Gropper, a Mohawk Road resident, said he will continue to chair the school building committee, and will continue to be involved with the school committee as well. Another run for the committee is not likely next year, he said, but he added that he would "give it serious consideration" for the future.

Bonnie Mclellan

Wins History Contest

Bonnie Mclellan, a ninth grade student at Andover East Junior High School, won first prize in the Individual Performance category of the Merrimack Valley District National History Day competition at the University of Lowell on March 20. She will now compete in the state competition on May 1 at Sturbridge Village. Winners of that competition will be awarded an all-expense paid trip to Washington, D.C., on June 10-12 to participate in the National History Day competition.

Her project consisted of doing a dramatic reading and presentation based on an extensive and in-depth taped interview of Dave Coffman, manager of the Pepsi-Cola Methuen Bottling Plant. In great detail she explored the structure of a typical large corporate franchise and the human dynamics of labor and management in this important local industry. The project fits well into the contest theme of trade and industry in history.

Mclellan benefitted from the encouragement and technical support of Louis Eiser-man, social studies head teacher, and John Givens, English teacher at Andover East Junior High School.

Mclellan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mclellan, 24 Maple Ave.

Gymnastics Begin Monday

The Department of Community Services will hold its seventh annual Elementary School Gymnastics Meet on Monday, March 29. Beginning at 6:30 p.m., athletes in grades 1 and 2 will participate in a variety of events at the high school. On Tuesday, March 30, students in grades 3 and 4 will take the floor. Wednesday, March 31, will feature gymnasts from grades 5 and 6. This year's competition will draw close to 300 athletes representing elementary schools from all over Andover. Parents and friends are invited to attend. Anyone who would like to assist as scorekeepers, squad leaders or judges should contact the DCS office at 475-5045.

Urban Angler Fishing Workshop

A four-part fresh water fishing workshop entitled "The Urban Angler," will meet for three Wednesdays at the high school beginning April 7. The fourth meeting will take place at Ponds Pond on Saturday, May 1. Register at the DCS office at the Shawsheen School to learn more about the fine art of fishing.

Volleyball Tournament Deadline

Teams still wishing to participate in the 1982 Volleyball Tournament may still do so, but are reminded that the deadline to enter is Tuesday, March 30. This year's tournament will be held on Monday, April 5, through Wednesday, April 7, at the West Junior High School gymnasium. Registration forms are available at the high school, Sport Shop, Hockey Shop.

Puppy Kindergarten Registration

Registration continues at the DCS office for an eight-week Puppy Kindergarten class to begin Monday, April 5. Train your pup correctly from the beginning instead of later trying to deal with the problems created by lack of training. Walking on leash, sit, down, stay, come and behavioral problems of housebreaking, nipping, jumping and barking are topics that will be covered. Pups should be between 10 weeks and four months. First class is held at the Andover High School without dogs. The DCS office is located at the Shawsheen School, Ann's Lane.

Men's Basketball

Standings in the Men's Senior Basketball League with two weeks left to play are as follows: McDonalds 10-3; Brothers LTD 9-3; Panthers and Pick-Ups 9-4; Suns 5-7; Andover Optical 3-10; Stealers 0-14.

The playoffs have begun in the Men's Junior Basketball League with P & M Cleaning defeating Trombly in two games to advance to the finals. Howe and McCrackens are tied one game apiece with the winner advancing to the finals when they will play P & M Cleaning.

CPR Review Class Scheduled

A three-week review class of the CPR Basic Life Support material will be offered at Andover High School from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. beginning Wednesday, April 28. An unexpired Red Cross or Heart Association CPR certificate must be brought to first class. Students will receive an American Red Cross certification upon successful completion of course. Students may have to purchase updated materials. Register at the DCS office, Monday through Friday 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Theatre Night Openings

Plenty of seats still remain for the April 8 theatre trip to Boston to see "Sheer Madness," the longest running play in Boston's history. Transportation and admission are included in the reasonable price. Registration will continue until March 24, or until all seats are sold. For further information, call the Department of Community Services.

Chinese Cooking Course

High School Career Day Friday

The Andover High School Department of Occupational Education and Guidance Department will present its second annual career day on Friday, March 26, at Andover High School. Speakers and parents from 65 various career fields from the local and Boston area will be on hand for lectures, discussions and to answer questions. The entire school will be involved, all students being scheduled into their desired career fields. The hours will be from 8:45 a.m. to 11 a.m. For more information, contact at Pat Korandakis at Andover High School.

Kaleidoscope Registration Starts April 7

Registration for Kaleidoscope's summer enrichment program (Aug. 2-13) will begin Wednesday, April 7, rather than May 4, as previously reported.

Registration will be by mail. Detailed brochures, which contain registration forms, are now available from elementary school offices, public library, the Department of Community Services office, or by writing Kaleidoscope, Box 506, Andover, MA 01810.

The two-week program for children ages 4-12 will be held at Andover High School from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and includes a wide variety of courses.

By Kristen James

With the arrival of spring, West Jr. High has begun preparing for the baseball and softball season. The boys baseball team, under the coaching supervision of Mr. Tisbert, and the girls softball team, under the coaching supervision of Mr. Gangi, are holding tryouts for prospective team members over the upcoming weeks.

Earlier this week, the Andover High School Band, directed by Al Graceffa, visited West to explain to students what the band is all about. The band, comprised of ninth grade and high school students, played several selections from their award-winning show. The purpose of the assembly was to recruit junior high students to join the band which is so important in keeping up school spirit. Mr. Graceffa's efforts were rewarded because many of the students did show an interest. Any student interested in signing up for the band, which participates in competitions, parades and trips, should contact Mr. Graceffa at the high school music department.

The ninth grade was treated to a special guest speaker last week; Peter McNabb spoke to students about his career and how he advanced to his height of success. He encouraged the importance of an education for an athlete to insure long-range security after he has left the sport. McNabb also told of his relationship with the Boston Bruins. The students especially enjoyed learning about his career and appreciate him giving up his time from the busy schedule of a professional ice-hockey player.

The theme for the annual chicken barbecue and open house this year is going to be a "Broadway Spectacular." The idea was agreed mutually by Mr. Gould, Mr. Hudson, and Mrs. Bernardin. Music for the choral group is already being selected. The show in May should be a great success!

Insurance companies in 14 states, including Massachusetts, are offering credits to customers whose houses are heated primarily by active or passive solar heat, because these houses have less fire losses than those with conventional heating systems. Earth-sheltered houses are included because they are protected from storms, Massachusetts Audubon points out.

Now You're Cooking

Come on Spring! Everywhere you go, people are complaining of the longest winter in history. Last week I put on my boots and walked around my yard kicking snow, looking for anything green. No luck! Then yesterday, while getting out of my car in a shopping mall parking lot, I saw a crowd gathered by the toddler merry-go-round. I dashed over to offer assistance, assuming a child had fallen off the merry-go-round. Wrong! The crowd was oh-ing over six little buds poking their green heads through the soil. I ask you, folks, has this been a long winter or what? Well, Spring is just around the corner and try celebrating with these delicious treats:

Chocolate Chip Date Bars

1 cup Bisquick or Jiffy Biscuit Mix
1 cup packed brown sugar
2 eggs
1 cup chopped nuts
1 cup chopped dates
1/2 cup semi-sweet chocolate chips
Powdered sugar

Heat oven to 350. Grease and flour 9x9x2 square pan. Mix biscuit mix with sugar and eggs. Stir in dates, nuts and chips. Bake 25 minutes. Cool to lukewarm. Cut into bars and roll in powdered sugar. Should yield about 24 bars.

Here's a terrific luncheon dish I got from one of the gals I fly with. Serve it with a green salad and hot rolls for a great meal.

Lo Cal Quiche

1 10 oz. pkg. frozen chopped broccoli or spinach or asparagus cooked and well drained
1 cup plain yogurt
1 cup creamed cottage cheese
1/2 cup Bisquick or Jiffy
1/4 cup margarine
2 eggs
Parmesan cheese to taste.

Preheat oven to 350. Spray 10" pie plate with Pam. Spread vegetable in plate. Beat remaining ingredients 15 seconds in blender. Pour over vegetable. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake 30 minutes, until golden.

So many of you have written to thank Ruth Babcock for the great recipes she so kindly took the time to send me. I called her to thank her and here are a couple more of Ruth's family favorites. I'm sure you will like them.

Dilly Cheese Bread

2 cups biscuit mix
1 1/2 cups grated sharp Cheddar cheese
1 Tb. sugar
1 1/4 cups milk

1 egg, lightly beaten
1 Tb. vegetable oil
1/2 tsp. dillweed
1/2 tsp. dry mustard

Preheat oven to 350. Generously grease 9x5 loaf pan or 6 cup bundt pan. Combine biscuit mix, cheese and sugar in large bowl. Combine remaining ingredients in second bowl and mix well. Stir into dry mixture blending well, then beat slightly to remove lumps. Turn into pan and bake until golden 45 to 50 minutes.

Chocolate Meringue Pie

2 egg whites
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1/2 tsp. vinegar

Beat egg whites stiff; gradually add 2/3 of the sugar, beating continually. Stir in remaining sugar with a fork and fold in vanilla and vinegar. Spread this meringue mixture into buttered pie pan. Bake in slow oven (275) for 1 hour. Cool thoroughly.

Filling

3/4 cup semi-sweet chocolate bits
3 Tb. hot water
1 cup whipped cream

Melt chocolate bits in water in double boiler. Cool. Fold in whipped cream and spread evenly into cooled meringue shell. Chill in refrigerator 1 hour.

Kiddie's Corner

Butterscotch Yummies

1 pkg. instant butterscotch pudding
2 cups milk
15 graham crackers whipped topping
chopped nuts

Beat pudding mix and milk until smooth. Spread pudding on graham cracker; top with another cracker; spread with more pudding; top with another cracker, then with whipped topping and nuts. Make 5 stacks.

Meet The Manager

Meet Bob Lavoie. Bob is the physical director at the Andover Y.M.C.A. and the man to see if you are interested in shaping up. He can put you on a program guaranteed to tone and firm the areas of your particular needs. Aside from helping out of shape grownups, Bob works wonders with children of all ages by inspiring them to work to their full physical potential. You'd be amazed to see how much the children learn under his direction and the enthusiasm he exudes to all of his students.

Presently, Bob is setting up the Y camp program for this summer, which promises to be the best camping year yet at Andover's Y.M.C.A.

The Professional Touch

This month's Professional touch comes from Beverly Cotter of the Cobbler's Bench Restaurant on Washington Square in Haverhill.

Veal Gruyere

5 1/2 oz. veal cutlet, split in Two pieces
3 slices of tomato, #10 cut
3 slices of Swiss cheese, #10 cut
2 oz. mushroom sauce
Breading: flour, milk, egg dip, cracker crumbs.

Flour, dip crumbs on veal and saute in hot butter. Put sauce in bottom of casserole dish and add sauteed veal. Place sliced tomatoes on top, then cheese. Place under broiler. Garnish with chopped parsley.

Points Of Interest

The Pike fashion show was a huge success with over 500 in attendance. The food at the Rolling Green, as usual, was delicious and the fashions were exciting.

It's time to start thinking about swimming and getting into your bathing suit. Many of you have asked me if I know the 'stewardess' diet" that was circulating around two years ago. Yes, I do. I have it and it's a good one for shedding weight quickly. If, after you go off the diet, you count your calories, the weight will stay off. You will lose 10 pounds in four days, if you do exactly what the diet directs. Here it is and good luck!

BREAKFAST: Every morning. Large grapefruit juice (10 oz. glass), 1/2 grapefruit and black coffee. You may drink all the water you want during the day.

LUNCH:

First day: two soft or hard boiled eggs, 1/2 box string beans and 1/2 grapefruit.

Second day: medium portion of spinach, string beans, cauliflower and warm applesauce.

Third day: salad of lettuce, tomatoes, celery, medium slice of broiled or roasted beef and one raw apple.

Fourth day: two eggs (scrambled in heated pan without butter), string beans (heated), tomato juice.

DINNER:

First day: broiled steak, trimmed, and raw salad on lettuce, tomato, celery and one raw apple.

Second day: one trimmed broiled lamb chop, 1/2 head lettuce, one 10 oz. glass of tomato juice.

Third day: medium portion broiled chicken, stewed (canned) tomatoes, large glass of prune juice.

Fourth day: broiled steak, 1/2 head lettuce, pineapple (fresh or canned).

This diet will take off ten pounds in four days, but you must follow it exactly!!!

The applesauce must be warmed.

Ballet

The North Shore Civic Ballet will give two performances on Saturday, April 3. A lecture-demonstration on the training of a dancer and an audience participation for children will be given at 11 a.m. at Beverly Public Library, 32 Essex St., Beverly. At 2 p.m. the Company will take part in Swampscott Mall's project to raise contributions "Fund for the Arts." A lecture-demonstration will be followed by a performance of "Shardem", a neoclassical ballet choreographed by company artistic director, Paula K. Shiff.

C. Renee Pruneau

Elected Sorority President

C. Renee Pruneau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Pruneau of Andover, has recently been named president of the Alpha Theta Chapter of the Gamma Phi Beta Sorority on Vanderbilt campus in Nashville, Tenn. Her initiation last spring makes her one of the youngest presidents to serve Alpha Theta and the chapter's 90 members.

She has been very active in the chapter, serving as chairman of the Open House, author of Gamma Phi's Homecoming Play, camp committee chairman, representative to the Alcohol Awareness Committee where she was made publicity chairman, Brownie troop leader and has been selected as Active-of-the-Month.

Although only 19, Renee is currently a junior at Vanderbilt, majoring in Soviet Studies and Political Science. She is involved in the Impact Committee, the largest student-run symposium in the country, Vanderbilt University Theatre, the Vanderbilt University newspaper, as well as many other organizations. She was a member of Andover High's Class of 1980.

Prize Shows

The Cambridge Art Association, in its 38th year, will present its annual juried Prize Show in two parts. Part I opens Sunday, May 2, from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. and continues through May 20. Part II opens Sunday, May 23, from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. through June 10. The CAA Gallery is at 25R Lowell St., in the former old Cambridge school building roughly opposite the Mt. Auburn Hospital. The gallery is open Tuesday through Saturday, 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., at no charge and visitors are always welcome. CAA is a non-profit artists' cooperative.

Part I features paintings and sculpture. The jury will be Svetlana Rockwell of the Rockwell Gallery; Nathaniel Burwash, sculptor; Calvin Burnett, artist, professor of art at Massachusetts College of Art.

Part II will show graphics, drawings, photography, wallhangings and ceramics. The jury is Jody Klein, artist; Angela Petrovic, director, The Baak Gallery-Cambridge; Betsy Van Buren, Van Buren/Brazelton/Cutting Gallery.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Zeitlin, of Swampscott, announce the engagement of their daughter, Cynthia Joan Zeitlin, to Dana Stephen Cohen, son of Rep. and Mrs. Gerald M. Cohen of Andover.

Ms. Zeitlin, a 1976 graduate of Marblehead High School, received her B.S. degree in 1980 from the University of Massachusetts, Amherst. She is presently a candidate for a Master's Degree in Public Health at Yale University.

Mr. Cohen is a 1976 graduate of Andover High School and a B.B.A degree recipient from the University of Massachusetts, Amherst. He is a second year law student at Suffolk University Law School.

A November wedding is planned.

Miss Comins To Wed In May

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Comins of Andover announce the engagement of their daughter, Claudia, to Randall Barber, son of Rev. James Barber, Board of Global Ministries, New York, and Jeanne Taggart Barber of Denver, Colo.

Miss Comins attended Andover elementary schools, Abbot Academy and graduated cum laude from Wheaton College. A former community organizer for Massachusetts Fair Share, she is executive director of Environmental Action Foundation, Washington, D.C. She is a member and active player with the Washington Area Women's Soccer League.

Barber attended Pueblo, Colorado public schools and is an alumnus of Dartmouth College. He is co-author with Jeremy Rifkin of "The North Shall Rise Again" which dealt with New England's textile industry.

Arrangement Workshop On Agenda

A Spring Flower Arrangement Workshop is the scheduled program for the March meeting of the Village Garden Club tonight at the home of Nina Anuff. Club member Kathy Baun, an expert arranger and accredited flower show judge, will be the instructor. The arrangement will be designed on a 6" brass candlestick with O'dapter and flowers. Each member will make an arrangement to be taken home.

The Village Garden Club is planning its entry in the Essex Aggie Flower Show on April 24. The theme for the annual flower show is "On the Street Where You Live."

The club's garden therapy committee organized a workshop with the special needs class room at Bancroft School and the "Big Wheels" class at West Elemen-

Specializing in the investment and control of union pension funds, he has lectured both here and abroad and writes a monthly journal for a department of the AFL-CIO. He also serves as president of the Center for economic organizing in Washington.

A May wedding is planned.

tary. In honor of St. Patrick's Day, 22 loaves of bread were baked and wrapped for students to take home. Some bread was eaten at the school. There was Irish music and folk stories for the students to enjoy. Members participating were Betty Arnott, Marilyn Carriere and daughter, Beth, Maureen Gill and Sue Williams. Donations from Craft Center and Heartland Food Store were much appreciated.

Telethon

Some 121 television stations in the United States and Canada will carry the 1982 Easter Seal Telethon this weekend, (March 27 and 28). Hosted nationally by singer Pat Boone in Hollywood and song writer-composer Marvin Hamlisch in New York, the telethon will be seen in Massachusetts on WXNE-TV (Channel 27), Worcester.

With eight-year-old Mary Sacco of Milton serving as the National Easter Seal Child, the Massachusetts Society is hoping for a record breaking telethon. Last year, some $350,000 was received in contributions.

Among those celebrities signed on for appearances nationally are singers, Connie Francis, Robert Goulet, Bert Convy, Thelma Hopkins and John Riatt; actors, Ron Howard, Jack Klugman, Anson Williams and Howard Hessman; comedians, Martin Mull, Rip Taylor

Miss Roehr Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Roehr, 9 Marie Drive, Andover, announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Ellen, to Mark Joseph Panico, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Panico, 640 Still Hill Road, Hamden, Conn.

Miss Roehr is a graduate of Hamden High School and will receive her degree from Alvertus Magnus College, New Haven, Conn., in May.

Mr. Panico is also a graduate of Hamden High School and received a B.A. degree in Economics from Trinity College, Hartford, Conn. in 1981.

Puppetry

Performers from the worlds of music, drama, vaudeville, circus, legend and folk tale are represented in an "Art in Puppetry" exhibit in the 60th-floor Observatory at John Hancock Tower in Boston's Copley Square through April 29.

Co-sponsored by the Puppet Showplace Theatre of Brookline, the colorful exhibit of 22 puppets was arranged by Nancy Laverick, a consultant to the theatre and a Hancock employee.

The exhibit features a variety of puppets ranging from an Indian storyteller, a rod puppet created by Paul Vincent Davis, artistic director of the Puppet Showplace Theater, to Carmen, a marionette or string puppet by Laverick, and Robin Hood and Friar Tuck, string puppets, the work of Lanelle Rice of Wellesley Hills.

The "Art in Puppetry" exhibit, as well as five permanent multimedia exhibits, can be seen Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. and Sunday from noon to 11 p.m.

Residents Aid Spring Benefit

"The Fine Art of Living," a benefit featuring a barge cruise in southern France, an Art Nouveau cameo glass, a Peking Chinese rug and a 1982 Buick Century automobile, will be conducted by the Ladies Committee at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston.

Fifteen gifts, each valued at more than $1000 and totalling more than $32,000, have been donated to the museum for this major fund-raising event, with proceeds going towards the museum's daily operating expenses and the continuance of the museum's services to the community.

Ladies Committee member, Mrs. John W. Kimball of Andover, is chairman of the benefit. "We are grateful to these friends of the museum," Mrs. Kimball said, "who have given us these magnificent gifts which truly reflect the fine art of living."

Assisting Mrs. Kimball are Andover residents: Mrs. S. Leonard Kent, a member of the museum's Ladies Committee, and Mrs. Richard S. O'Hara and Mrs. Paul F. Donahue, who are serving as area representatives.

All benefit prizes will be displayed at the Museum of Fine Arts during March and April. Information and tickets are available from Ladies Committee members, area representatives and in the museum's Members Room.

Prizes also include: an oil painting, valued at $6000; magnum of French wine ($2500); Federal mahogany side chair ($1500); jade pendant ($1100); strand of pearls ($1070); silver tea and coffee service and teaspoons ($1000).

To Offer Tips On Successful Gardening

Marge Huemler, former district director of the Massachusetts Garden Club, will address the Andover Garden Club on vegetable gardening at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, April 6, at the November Club.

Huemler, a 20-year veteran of New England vegetable gardening, maintains two gardens each—one in Danvers and a second at her summer home in Maine. She grows three varieties of corn, tomatoes, winter squash, onions, salad vegetables, herbs and flowers for cutting.

Hints on how to make gardening easier, such as the use of mulch, black plastic ground covers, and how to attract birds to avoid the use of insecticides will be emphasized. access to special seed companies will be suggested and also hints on transplanting, including the use of milk cartons and bread bags.

A nationally accredited flower show judge, Huemler is the mother of seven children, one of whom has served as an adviser on Crockett's Victory Garden on Channel 2.

Mrs. Anthony J. Sakowitch, program chairman, arranged this presentation.

Mrs. Thomas Noyes will create the floral arrangement for the tea table. Mrs. Joseph S. Hoffman and former club president, Mrs. Albert Rothseid, will be tea table hostesses.

Carolyn Goodwin will give the mini-talk on the use of mulch.

Chris and Geoff Reichert, 49 Cheever Circle, Andover, recently participated in the Dean-For-A-Day program at Dean Junior College, Franklin, which provides prospective students with an opportunity to learn about the school's programs.

To Mark Pastor's Appointment

The Ballard Vale United Church will have a Celebration of New Ministry Service Sunday at 4 p.m. to officially mark the appointment of a new pastor, The Rev. Gary S. Cornell, who began his ministry on January 6.

Rev. Richard Garland, pastor of the St. Paul's United Methodist Church in New Bedford will be the preacher for this service.

Local clergy who will share in the leadership are: The Rev. Paul Clinton, interim pastor, West Parish, who will give the charge to the people and pastor; the Rev. David Melvin, associate pastor at South Church; The Rev. Thomas Nestor, associate pastor, St. Robert Bellarmine Church, who will read the lessons and offer the prayer of the people, respectively. The service is open to the public.

The United Church Choir and the Chancel Choir of the Barrington, R.I., United Methodist Church will offer special music. Rev. Cornell was the pastor of the Barrington church before his appointment to the United Church.

A time of fellowship and refreshments will follow the service.

The Ballard Vale United Church is a merged congregation of United Methodist and United Church of Christ and has relationship with Massachusetts Conference of the United Church of Christ and the Southern New England Conference of the United Methodist Church.

Lenten Program At South

As part of the continuing Lenten Musical Program of South, 41 Central St., Andover, the Gordon College String Trio will participate in the Sunday worship service on March 28. Amy Hertel and Timothy Fenderson will be the violinists with Be Sharol Erickson as cellist. The trio is under the direction of Fred Broer, a member of the music faculty at Gordon College. The String Trio's repertoire includes a varied combination of classical music and hymn arrangements. Their selections will include: Prelude: "Sonata No. 3" by Haydn; Offertory Hymn arrangements of "Praise to the Lord, the Almighty" and "Amazing Grace"; Response: "Prelude" by Corelli; Postlude: "Sonata Opus 4 No. 4" by Corelli. The String Trio will be joining with the Sanctuary Choir of South, under the direction of Keith Gould, director of music.

HOW TO WIN AT THE LOSING GAME

DIET CENTER

Here's a sensible weight loss program that really works.

Sure it's tough to lose weight, if it weren't we would all be slim. Maybe the hardest part of all is deciding to get started. When you make that decision, call the Diet Center. Through our program of sound nutrition and daily counseling, you will lose 17 to 25 pounds in just six weeks. And, if necessary, that rate of reduction can be sustained until you have lost 50, 75 or even 100 pounds and more! What's even more important, we'll teach you what you need to know to keep that weight off, for good! The Diet Center features programs for men, women and young people who have discovered how hard it is to lose weight alone. Decide to be slim, then call the Diet Center!

In Appreciation For A Special Ride

By Sue Aucella Deacon

(Photos Page 28)

*"Give a man a horse he can ride,
Give a man a boat he can sail;
And his rank and wealth, his strength and health
On sea nor shore shall fail."*

James Thomson

Four years ago, Elaine Katz of Phillips Street enjoyed horseback riding and swimming and learning to climb mountains. Then she suffered a ruptured aneurysm, leaving her with little use of her left hand and left leg.

Giving up vigorous physical activity "really was dreadful," Katz recalls, because "I was so used to being active. It felt like somebody else was living in my skin."

She missed riding most of all. "One thing I really, really felt bad about was that I would never get on a horse again. I loved riding, and my kids are riders."

Today Elaine Katz is a horseback rider again; she has been riding every week for the past two years, since she started taking lessons for handicapped riders from Marjorie Kitteredge at Windrush Farm in Boxford.

"Riding has meant everything to me," Katz says intensely. "It's the very best thing I've done since I got sick. It's excellent physical therapy, and it's fantastic mental therapy."

"The stroke really messed up my head — I felt as if I didn't have a brain in my head, my thinking was so messed up. But on the first day I went riding, afterwards I figured out the first thing I got right since I got sick. My head seemed to be back in order again."

After her first lesson, Katz says she was "so excited to be riding again that I would have paid anything. No amount would have been too much." But Kitteredge would expect no payment, and never has.

"She said there was no payment for the handicapped classes," Katz explains.

Kitteredge offers riding lessons to children and adults with both physical and emotional disabilities at Windrush Farm, two acres of "beautiful land with beautiful trails" on the Boxford-North Andover line, where she keeps 38 horses.

According to Katz, Kitteredge supports her classes for the handicapped by offering regular riding lessons, and accepting donations from businesses.

Last weekend, Katz and her husband, Dr. Richard Katz, found a way to make a generous contribution to Windrush Farm, with a little help from their friends.

They hosted a dinner party for 13 couples at their home, and each couple donated $100 to benefit Kitteredge's farm. A number of couples who could not attend the dinner also made donations, which will help pay for a new indoor riding ring Kitteredge had installed so her handicapped students could ride year-round.

Kitteredge was the guest of honor. After cocktails and dinner, she showed a film of her program for handicapped riders, and the guests could "see what their contributions would accomplish," Katz says.

Among the guests was Kitteredge's escort, Robert Hartzell of Spain. An old friend of the riding teacher's, he is currently writing a novel about handicapped children, and was visiting Kitteredge to learn about her special program.

Katz took riding lessons from Kitteredge "years ago. I knew she was an excellent teacher." When she learned that the teacher worked with handicapped riders, Katz says it took her "two weeks to get up the courage to call her. And when I asked her when I could come, she said, 'How about tomorrow?' I was so excited."

She went to the class expecting to be one of the most severely impaired students there, but instead found she was "one of the lesser handicapped," Katz remembers. "There are people who have had accidents, people with congenital problems, people at all levels of riding ability."

Kitteredge gives individual instruction to each student in the small classes, which meet weekly, and "she has all the patience in the world," Katz says. "She'll spend an hour fussing around with your stirrup to get it just right."

The classes are staffed by volunteers as well, because each student needs at least one person to help them ride. Katz recalls a day when the horse she was riding shied.

"Ordinarily that would have been nothing. But I have so little use of my left hand and leg that I needed the help of one person who was leading my horse, and another who was walking alongside me. The three of us had a terrible time bringing that horse down."

The handicapped riding program was inspired, Katz says, by the "Outward Bound" program, which teaches young people courage and self-confidence by putting them through rigorous and daring physical feats. (That program, now offered to youth around the world, was founded by Joshua Miner of Phillips Academy.)

Elaine Katz's courage shines through her love for horseback riding. "Last winter I fell a lot, and my orthopedic surgeon advised me against riding. So I stopped for a while, to let my bones heal," she says.

But she is riding once again. "It's done so much for my mental health," Katz explains. "And I decided my mental health was as important as my bone health."

(Contributions to Kitteredge's program are tax-deductible, and may be sent to Windrush Farm, Handicapped Riding Program, Boxford, 01921.)

Heavy Voter Turnout Rejects School Project Override

The largest turnout for a municipal election in recent years sent a message to town hall Monday, reemphasizing a desire for less spending.

Reinforcing their feelings about Proposition 2½ made a year and half ago at the ballot box, voters rejected removing the school building project from the school budget, thus sending the school department back to the budget drawing board to prepare for annual town meeting.

The ballot question was turned down by 57 percent of the 6,002 voters who turned out, with 42 percent favoring an override of the Prop 2½ provision.

Voters also moved Susan T. Poore from the board of selectmen to the school committee and returned Selectman Norma A. Gammon to another three-year term.

They chose Atty. William Dalton as a three-year term as selectman and Robert Smith of Dundas Avenue, as a new school committeeman and placed John Childs on the Greater Lawrence Regional Technical School committee.

While there was considerable support for the override, with many campaigning at the polls bearing 'yes' buttons, the 'silent majority' turned out in force to defeat the issue.

It became obvious, as initial returns were announced in the town hall lobby Monday night, that the voters had decided to keep the school bonding within the school department budget, as the first two precincts cast deciding 'no' votes.

There was no deviation from the pattern as the remaining six precincts trickled in, all maintaining a definite majority in the negative.

The school committee election followed almost the same pattern. Mrs. Poore, a strong advocate of a no vote on the question, topped the field in the race, with Kenneth Gropper, chairman of the school building committee and a proponent of the override, placing third. The vote totals were different, but reflected a similar pattern.

A little over 35 percent of the total 16,000 registered voters turned out Monday, lured primarily by the override question.

Actual vote on the item was 3,349 in the negative, 2,501 yes.

Mrs. Poore received 3,112 votes in her bid for a seat on the school committee after serving six years as selectman. She was followed by Smith with 3,074 votes, Gropper with 2,161 and newcomer Donald Michelinie with 1,953.

Atty. William Dalton, a former moderator, topped the selectman's race with a vote of 4,160, followed by Chairman Gammon with 3,874 and Kenneth T. Buck with 1,784.

Childs, involved in vocational-technical school education, was elected to a three year term on the regional school board with 2,972 votes to Atty. Arthur Sobel's 1,826.

Moderator James D. Doherty was unopposed in his bid for another one-year term as were the five members of the Punchard Free School Trustees: William Emmons, Earl Effinger, Margaret Porter, Joan M. Lewis and John R. Petty.

The complete election results were posted about 9:30 p.m., with the ballots being processed in the computer room at town hall for the first time. They were previously processed by a private firm.

Municipal election in recent years have had rather poor turnouts. A year ago, with only a single contest on the ballot, less than 1,000 voters went to the polls.

Seifert Asks For New Philosophy In Order To Shape Budget

It was listed under "future directions" on the School Committee's agenda Tuesday night. But where the schools are headed with a $12.9 million budget next year remained unclear in the aftermath of the defeat of the Proposition 2½ override question in Monday's election.

Supt. Kenneth Seifert told the new committee that the general philosophy of the school committee, formulated in 1977, would no longer be possible with a reduced budget. He urged the committee to come up with a new philosophy to help the administration shape a revised budget.

"What do you believe in? What do you want?" the superintendent asked. "Give us the guidelines that give us a specific direction."

But the committee members found it difficult to detail their priorities, and came up with what Michael Giammusso termed a "will-o'-the-wisp" response to the administration's request. New member Susan Poore said a list of priorities was "not something you whip off in ten minutes."

One priority was clear: None of the members would accept the administration's proposal to cut 46 teachers to reduce the budget. That plan was part of a $12.9 million budget the administration presented to the committee last week.

Seifert emphasized that that was the administration's "best judgment" on how a $12.9 million budget could be reached, based on discussions with the administration and staff. "That's a $12.9 budget," he said. "That's it for us."

Giammusso said he was "very uncomfortable" with the large class sizes — around 35 students — that teacher lay-offs would produce in the elementary grades.

But he cautioned against cutting other areas too deeply to save teachers. "We have to be very careful to avoid a couple of extremes — dismantling the system to keep teachers, leaving no leeway for rebuilding the system, and on the other hand, the wholesale firing of teachers. We have to find that middle ground."

After tossing the superintendent's question back and forth for a while and listening to comments from the audience in the West Elementary School auditorium, the committee concluded that classroom basics were their top priority — what Patrick D'Agostino of Rock O' Dundee Road called

Gammon Renamed Chairman

Norma A. Gammon, re-elected to another term on the board of selectmen this week, was also re-elected chairman of the board by her colleagues at an organizational meeting Tuesday night.

The board welcomed new member William Dalton and proceeded to re-elect Gammon chairman, Gerald Silverman, vice chairman and Edward M. Harris secretary.

During a regular meeting of the board, a beer and wine license was approved for Baron's Country Store at Lowell Street and Haggetts Pond Road. About 50 neighbors from the store area at the meeting in support of the request and no one spoke in opposition.

The board also approved application to the state for the designation of the downtown area as a Community Area Revitalization District (CARD), with several merchants and Andover Chamber of Commerce officials attending the hearing prior to the decision.

Thanks

Retiring school committee members were thanked for their service at their final meeting a week ago, with the presentation of plaques. Committeeman Michael Giammusso extends the appreciation of the board to Joseph Finn, who had been serving as chairman and John Eaton, who completed his three-year term on the board last week.

The students of South School participated in the Weekly Reader Pen Pal contest this week. Each student attached a postcard with a message and their name and address and together they released their balloons in hopes of making a new pen pal in a different area. A part of a national contest, there is a $500 prize for the balloon that travels the farthest. Understanding A Mandate Andover's voters spoke rather clearly on Monday that they are desirous of less government spending, indicating in the process that education, long considered a precious commodity in Andover, is not exempt.

The vote not to override a provision of Prop 2½ and allow school construction costs to be exempted from the total school budget now compels the school department to reassess its programs and live within a smaller budget.

There was no room for doubt, with 57 per cent of the 6,002 voters indicating negatively to the override and 42 per cent casting an affirmative decision.

The totals left little doubt that a mandate has been given and one which will require a considerable amount of understanding in the months ahead.

Involved primarily, of course, will be the school committee and administration.

This past year some decisions were made, particularly in the area of busing which met with considerable displeasure among some parents in the community. School board meetings at the beginning of the school year were filled with controversy and there was, at times, some rather rude exchanges between officials and parents as some sought to have routes reestablished for safety of children.

The net result was a return of some buses, the resumption of school transportation in some areas of town and later in the year an additional altering of school bus schedules to accommodate additional youngsters.

It is doubtful that such accommodation can be accomplished again in the coming year.

The matter of buses is mentioned here, primarily because of the stir it caused last summer and fall, and the feelings engendered in the process.

There will be other programs and services which will be affected by the Monday decision. It is conceivable that some programs, services and extra-curricular activities will be funded through user fees, including athletics, if Andover residents choose to continue them and continue to be in accord with the vote on Monday.

It is further conceivable that the underlying feeling which produced the decision may carry through to town meeting and therefore affect other departments as well, as the taxpayers maintain the tax-cutting message they initiated at the polls a year and one-half ago.

The vote on Monday was almost the same percentage-wise as the town's favoring of Prop 2½ in November, 1980.

It will be interesting to watch the school committee go about the unenviable task of whittling the budget to accommodate the public's decision.

It may be even more interesting to see just how much understanding those who favored the override will have as programs and services are eliminated.

They worked hard and campaigned to preserve what they felt was necessary to run the schools.

But, the majority of Andover's voters who cast their ballots Monday felt differently.

It was a clear mandate which must be understood and accepted.

The Public Forum

Take The Challenge

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

A few weeks ago I wrote a letter expressing my concern as a parent and a taxpayer for the quality of life for my family here in Andover. As a proponent of the school building referendum, needless to say I was disappointed with the results of Monday's election. However, any attempt to analyze or justify why the vote went as it did would be futile at this time. The fact still remains that we, the citizens of Andover, have a school system very much in need of our input and support. The politics and voting have been done, now let us all get down to the serious business of operating this system.

For those of us who openly supported the referendum, our work does not end at the ballot box. Each of us must continue to contribute in every way possible to the continuance of a school system which has consistently excelled in academic achievement far beyond the national average. For those who opposed the referendum, your responsibility should not terminate at the polls either. By virtue of your voting, you have openly expressed a desire to actively participate in the overall management of the Andover school system.

We, as concerned citizens, taxpayers and parents, need to work together within a cooperative framework to assure the best possible school system, not only for our children, but also for ourselves as well.

The school system is not a segregated segment of our town's society, but rather it is an integral part of that society through which the basic political and social philosophy of the townspeople is reflected. In short, if we are to be proud of our town and its overall management, then we must be willing to make every facet of its operation work in harmony with each other. To isolate one area for another only leads to fragmenting the entire system. The solid foundation of years of hard work, time and money spent on creating a system we all should be and can be proud of must not be allowed to decay and crumble because of political animosity and ignorance.

What we have before us is a great challenge. What we seek to lose if that challenge is not met with a cooperative effort is much, much more than a few tax dollars. I offer this letter as an open challenge to all citizens of Andover to work together in mutual concern and dedication toward the creation of a school system which will work effectively within the town's framework to the betterment of all its citizens.

Escrow Funds

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I propose a law to be enacted by the state legislature requiring the banks to turn over to the towns the tax escrow monies they have received from the citizens within five working days of receipt.

The thrift institutions use our money for a minimum of six months before they turn it over to the towns. They pay about one percent to the mortgagee but earn a minimum of 15 percent on the money market, a difference of 14 percent. The annuity value of 14 percent for six months works out to a monthly payment of $171.54. This equals a semi-annual interest earning of $19.22 per $1,000, or $58.44 per $1,000 per year. The banks are depriving the towns of $58.44 for every $1,000 that we give them to hold in escrow. They have legally converted our money for their own use.

Andover gets about $18 million in taxes each year. Of this, about $14 million comes from residential taxes. Of this, about $6 million comes from the escrow money held by the banks and remitted twice each year.

For Andover, this works out to about $351,000 per year of lost revenue.

Our tax collector, Mr. Muise, would be delighted to receive an extra $351,000 each year, but he cannot because of the way the law is presently written. He has no option. He is obliged by state law to send tax bills no more frequently than twice a year. There is no provision for him to receive the money sooner and the banks aren't about to volunteer this service either.

The banks have a very strong and influential lobby. Right now, all of what our legislators hear they hear from this special interest group. The only way to change things is if they hear from the people who put them there, you and me. I urge every concerned taxpayer who wants a bigger bang for his tax buck to contact his representative immediately. I'm tired of giving my banker extra money so he can live in fat city while my kids are getting insufficient education, my property is in jeopardy, and it could be safer for me and my loved ones. I hope other people are tired of this also, and will do something about it.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

The federal government's cheese distribution has been and is being handled through the senior center—The Haven—on Essex Street. If you are over 60 and a resident of Andover—and would like some cheese—you may well be eligible. The center is expecting its second shipment shortly, so why not call them and get your name on the list of those to whom the cheese can be given. It is possible that proof of age and residency may be required, but telephone The Haven today to get your name on the list.

There are only a few seats left for the performance of "I Do, I Do" on April 15 at Lantana's in Randolph. It is a luncheon show and costs $19—including transportation and luncheon.

And the Narragansett Bay cruise, May 18, is filling up fast, too. The day will cost you $22, which includes transportation, lunch on board the Bay Queen, entertainment, shopping and tour time in Newport, as well as lovely sightseeing in the bay. Don't delay or you'll be among those waving goodbye instead of going!

Friday, April 2, Joan Dumont from Senator Pat McGovern's office will be at the center starting at 1 p.m. to meet with any citizen who have problems the Senator might be able to help them with. No appointment is necessary. Just come.

The regular monthly meeting of The Haven Associates will be held on Wednesday, April 14, instead of Thursday, because of the trip to "I Do, I Do."

On Thursday, April 22, there will be a special luncheon at The Haven starting at noon and including a special sampling of various products. cost is $2.50. There is no hot lunch program that week because of school vacation, so this will be a special event to make up for that. The Haven will be open all day Good Friday, but there will be no Bingo that afternoon.

If your birthday is in April or you have a friend who's birthday is in April, be sure to let the staff at the senior center know so that they can send an invitation to the April birthday party, April 7. There will be birthday cake and entertainment. You'll want to be there to help celebrate whether you are an April child or not.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Jobless rate could worsen,
Reagan aides say privately

By Jack Anderson and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — Ten million Americans are now out of work. Most of them are still looking for jobs, hoping for a turnaround in the economy. Some have stopped looking.

President Reagan has been out stumping the country, telling the people not to despair. He insists his economic plan will work and that the picture will get brighter before long. To older Americans, this has the ominous ring of Herbert Hoover's jaunty assurance 50 years ago that "prosperity is just around the corner."

Now we have learned that President Reagan's optimism isn't shared by many of his own aides. Behind closed doors, White House advisers are conceding that unemployment may get worse — much worse than they have let on publicly.

Officially, the administration's experts have been saying that 10 percent unemployment is as bad as things will get. But privately, White House aides have a different figure: They think unemployment could hit 12 percent before the economy begins to pick up.

And this 12 percent figure has them frankly worried. That would mean more than 13 million Americans out of work. And in political terms, it would mean disaster for the Republicans in the congressional elections this fall.

The political effects of 13 million unemployed would be far greater than just the number of people out of work. It would mean whole families driven to desperation; young people forced to drop out of college; merchants and manufacturers with cars and television sets and other consumer goods on their hands, and nobody able to buy them.

In a situation like that, millions of Americans will be ready for a change — any change. The Democrats would clean up in the fall.

In the face of this potential tidal wave, the White House advisers have one slim hope, we are told. They figure that if they can somehow get interest rates down, the economy will turn around and they can stave off disaster in November.

But the president's advisers are deeply worried about that unemployment figure. They keep having this nightmare — of a desperate, despairing nation suddenly electrified by the beguiling strains of that old campaign song: "Happy Days Are Here Again."

PROOF POSITIVE? State Department officials have had a tough time convincing the American public that the Soviets are using chemical warfare in Afghanistan and Southeast Asia. At one point, Secretary of State Alexander Haig promised to produce "physical evidence." His subordinates were roundly hooted when they displayed the "evidence": a leaf and a stem from Cambodia which allegedly showed traces of chemical agents.

State Department sources now say that intelligence analysts are working on a special top-secret project to pull together all the available evidence. The result, officials say, will be a report that will conclusively prove the allegations against the Soviets.

An 800-page secret training manual used by the East German military has been recovered, for example, and it allegedly contains a lengthy section on chemical and biological warfare. There's a chapter on the toxins that make up the so-called "yellow rain" and another on the threat of the United States' chemical arsenal.

PENTAGON PIPELINE: High on the Defense Department's wish list is a new anti-tank weapon that will cost the taxpayers about $1 billion. It's shaped like an oversized bullet, is guided by laser beams and is called the "Copperhead." Each shell will cost $22,000. Government auditors who have studied the weapon, however, report that it has a shortcoming. It is not accurate against moving targets, like tanks. It also doesn't work in bad weather or on hilly terrain.

Another item on the Pentagon wish list is a $2 billion infra-red guidance system designed to be used on low-flying aircraft. It's called "LANTIRN," and its cost almost doubled in the last year. Here again, independent government experts have concluded the system may not work.

Air National Guard brass disobeyed orders from higher-ups and kept some aging F-105 fighters at Andrews Air Force Base, outside Washington, so they could log some extra flying time. The hours they spend in the air beyond the minimum requirement puts extra pay in their pockets. An inspection team discovered the old planes and flunked the unit that had retained them.

HEADLINES AND FOOTNOTES: The Coast Guard has parked 18 new rescue jets in a desert warehouse because the White House budget office refuses to entertain a request for money to operate the planes. Multinational corporations may soon be pouring money into the tiny nation of Singapore. Reason: Their economists say Singapore has one of the most promising economic and political climates in the world.

Sharks Compete In Regionals

The Sharks swim team of the Andover-North Andover YMCA competed at the New England Regional Championships at Brown University last weekend.

In Class E the medley and freestyle relay teams of Matt Jennings, Brad Cronin, Paul Mitchell and Sean Herlihy placed sixth. Jennings was ninth in the 25 yard backstroke. The E boys finished seventh over all.

Jennifer Munro, Laura Koerckel, Danielle Graham and Vani Rastogi were seventh in the freestyle relay and tenth in the medley relay, while Koerckel placed fourth in the 50 yard freestyle and sixth in the 100 yard I.M. Graham was tenth in the 25 yard freestyle. The girls finished 11 in the standings.

In Class D, Dan Lennon, Matt MacVicar, Chris Hart and David Inskeep placed ninth in the boys' medley relay, while MacVicar was sixth in the 50 yard breaststroke.

Erika Suduiko, Brenna Cronin, Coleen Hayes and Amy VanAken were 11 in the medley and freestyle relays. VanAken was third in both the 50 and 100 yard freestyle events.

Shawna Newland placed tenth in the Class C 50 yard freestyle.

In Class B, the relay team of Gregg Morava, Doug Wayland, Ted Crane and Scott Bates was eighth in the medley and 12 in the freestyle. Morava was tenth in the 100 yard backstroke, while Wayland came in 12 in the 100 yard breaststroke.

Places Third

Brian O'Dell of Andover, a sophomore at Governor Dummer Academy and two-year varsity member of the GDA wrestling team that recently won the Graves-Kelsey Wrestling Championship, came home from the 11th New England Independent Schools Wrestling Association Tournament Saturday with a third place medal in the 167 pound class. The tourney was held at MIT's Rockwell cage, with over 30 schools represented. O'Dell had an 8-2-1 dual meet record this year with six falls.

Kara Hannon, Karen Mackay, Patty Fitzgerald and Heather Kirkwood were 12 in both the medley and freestyle elays.

All Stars Chalk Up Tourney Win

By Rick Harrison

The red-hot Andover All-Stars 7th grade basketball team chalked up another tournament championship last weekend, winning the annual Greater-Boston Pre-Teen Tournament title with an exciting 41-39 double overtime triumph over Wakefield at the Somerville High gym.

That dramatic victory highlighted a busy weekend for the four Andover All-Star teams, with the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth grade squads enjoying mixed success (four wins, three losses) in action at tournies hosted by Somerville, Wakefield, Saugus, Lawrence and Mt. Wachusett Community College.

In addition to capturing the Pre-Teen championship, the seventh graders also drilled Belmont 59-39 in the opening round of the Wakefield Invitational, and dropped a tough 57-56 decision to Revere in the quarterfinals at Mt. Wachusett in Gardner.

The sixth graders lost a heartbreaking 24-23 verdict to the Saugus Shooters in the championship game of the annual Saugus Ironworks Tournament, but bounced back to slam the Bradford Bobcats 36-16 in the first round of the St. Augustine's School Invitational in Lawrence.

The talented ninth grade crew launched its tournament season with a resounding 75-39 thrashing of Wakefield in the quarterfinals of the Wakefield Invitational, as Tim Perry produced an awesome 37-point performance in that one.

The eighth graders, who won a pair of tournaments last season but were playing without big gun Joe Hart, were ousted from the Wakefield tourney following a 60-40 loss to the Woburn Boys' Club.

The Andover All-Stars sixth grade squad returned to action in the St. Augustine's Tournament earlier this week.

The seventh graders battle Beverly and the ninth graders duel Everett in Wakefield Tournament play tomorrow night at the Wakefield Fieldhouse.

The eighth graders will journey to the South Shore on Saturday to compete in the annual New Bedford Invitational Tournament.

Other tournies on the horizon for the Andover teams are those in Lexington, Arlington and a second one in Lawrence.

Andover 7th, 41-39 (2ot)

In adding the Greater-Boston Pre-Teen championship to their earlier victory in Athol, the Andover seventh graders rode the dramatic overtime heroics of Chris Poor, Steve Redgate and Kurt Burzlaff to its decision over Wakefield.

This victory avenged a 57-54 setback to the same Wakefield crew in the semifinal round of the Tewksbury Invitational, although Andover was undermanned in that game (no Steve Redgate).

The loss was only the second in the last 40 games for Wakefield, a string that includes both regular season and tournament action.

Andover, 14-3 in tourney games over a two-year period, couldn't get untracked in the first period as Wakefield rode Chris Mastrangelo's six points to an 8-1 lead.

The locals, who fell behind 10-1 early in the second quarter, battled back to 14-11 by halftime on the strength of eight points from John Perry, a basket by Steve Redgate, and some excellent defensive play.

Andover moved within one point on several occasions in the third period, but each time Wakefield kept its poise and the lead as Mike Plansky's five points helped offset fieldgoals by Chris Colsia, Kurt Burzlaff and Chris Poor.

Andover still trailed 22-19 entering the fourth quarter, but Perry (five points), Redgate, Colsia and Burzlaff all stuck in clutch hoops as the lead changed hands several times over the final three minutes of regulation.

Two big free throws by Mastrangelo made it 33-32 with less than a half-minute remaining, and then both teams missed several scoring opportunities before Chris Poor was fouled with just 0:03 showing on the clock.

Poor buried the second of two free throws to tie it 33-33, and a desperation shot by Wakefield sailed over the basket at the buzzer.

The archrivals traded baskets in the first overtime, with Tim Raymond giving Wakefield a 35-33 advantage before Steve Redgate tied it in the final minutes.

Both clubs had several shots rim the basket to further heighten the suspense, and Andover received a blow when John Perry fouled out.

The inspired rebounding efforts of Kurt Burzlaff and Redgate was a big key in the second three-minute overtime, which saw Plansky and Burzlaff trade hoops before Mastrangelo and Poor calmly swished two free throws apiece to make it 39-39.

The game-winning bucket was produced by Poor, who swished a 18-footer from the key area with less than 15 seconds to play.

Mike Lane then took his turn in the hero's role. With four seconds to play Plansky momentarily lost control of the ball at the top of the key, and Lane responded alertly by diving head first to push the ball over the midcourt line as time expired.

Perry finished the game with 13 points and four assists, Redgate added nine points and 10 rebounds, Burzlaff had 6 points and 12 rebounds, Chris Colsia 6 points and Poor finished with 7 points.

Mastrangelo and Plansky paced Wakefield with 14 points each, while Vic Majeski contributed 7. Andover reached the title game with earlier wins over Wayland (31-28) and Woburn (65-30), while Wakefield had edged the Woburn Boys' Club (28-25) and snapped St. Catherine's of Somerville 27-game win streak with a 55-52 overtime triumph in the semifinals.

Andover 7th, 59-39

The Andover seventh graders were never in serious trouble against Belmont in their Wakefield Tournament opener, leading 12-2, 27-19 and 43-32 at the first three quarter breaks.

The winners placed eight different men in the scoring column, with three players hitting double figures.

Chris Colsia, playing his finest tourney game to date, poured in 13 points, pulled down a dozen rebounds and blocked three shots.

Steve Redgate also turned in a superb all-around performance with 12 points, nine rebounds and several pretty assists.

John Perry was the game-high scorer with 15 points, 11 of them in the second half.

Kurt Burzlaff, Mike Lane and Pistol Pete Derba tossed through 4 points each, Tim Boudreau contributed 3 points and Chris Poor 2.

John Pritchard and Brent Leahy led Belmont with 9 points each.

Andover shot 50 percent from the free throw line, converting 15-of-30 foul shots.

Revere 7th, 57-56

Andover was beaten for the first time in two years while at full strength, as the locals came up flat and lost out in their bid for an unprecedented third straight Mt. Wachusett Community College Tournament championship.

The game was marred by some confusion with the clock in the final half minute, the end result giving Revere several extra precious seconds to erase a three-point deficit (56-53) and rally for the win.

Making the loss even tougher to swallow was the fact Chris Colsia banked in what would have been the game winning basket, but the shot was launched a split-second after the final buzzer had sounded.

Andover had trouble heating up, as the locals fell behind by as many as 12 points in the first quarter and still trailed 18-8 after one period.

John Perry, Steve Redgate and Colsia powered a 19-9 second quarter surge that tied it 27-27 at half-time.

The Andover All-Stars once again fell behind by 10 points midway through the third period, but the same trio brought their team back within one point at 43-42 entering the fourth quarter.

The lead seesawed several times in the final stanza, with Kurt Burzlaff coming alive for Andover, and when Redgate swished two clutch free throws with 30 seconds to play it gave the locals a 56-53 advantage.

The confusion with the clock followed, and a pair of crucial Andover turnovers led to buckets by Billy Meyers and Chris Dawley enabled Revere to pull out its stunning victory.

John Perry had 16 points, Colsia 12, Burzlaff 8, Mike Lane and Nick Coon 2 apiece and Chris Poor a free throw for Andover.

The unqualified star, however, was Steve Redgate who pumped through 15 points, hauled down 14 rebounds, blocked several shots and contributed a superb all-around defensive effort.

Meyers pocketed 16 points for the scrappy Revere crew, Sal Bottari added 14 and Dawley 14.

Andover 6th, 36-16

The Andover All-Stars sixth grade entry raced to a 17-6 halftime lead before coasting past the Bradford Bobcats in the opening round of the 28-team St. Augustine's Invitational Tournament in Lawrence.

Nine players contributed to the winners' offense, which was led by John Perry with 15 points.

Scott Wallace tossed through 6 points, Josh Malitsky 4, Tom Sheehan 3, and single baskets were delivered by Mike Lane, Matt Gibson, Steve DeVoir, Greg DeVoir, and Patrick Kelley.

Additional standouts for the winners, who passed the ball extremely well, were Dave Vickers, Joe Tavilla, Bill O'Brien and John "Cornbread" Glynn.

Matt Paolino hooped 6 points for Bradford.

Saugus 6th, 24-23

Andover came within one agonizing point of winning its second straight Saugus Ironworks Tournament title, and the locals did it despite the fact key players John Perry and Mike Lane were playing Gardner in the conflicting Mt. Wachusett tourney.

The game was decided at the free throw line, where Saugus outscored Andover 10-8.

More importantly, Andover was whistled for 29 personal fouls and Saugus 16. Three players had fouled out for Andover by the end of the game, while a fourth was saddled with four fouls.

Dave Vickers popped in 7 points and rebounded extremely well although he was in foul trouble the entire game.

Matt Gibson chipped in 6 points, two steals and a solid floor game, while Bill O'Brien netted 5 points and was tough under the boards.

Tom Sheehan slipped in 5 points and was a third strong rebounder, and Scott Wallace starred defensively with several key steals.

Jeff O'Donnell of Saugus was game-high marksman with 9 points.

Andover led 10-8 at halftime and 18-17 after three periods, but the fouls eventually proved to be the locals' downfall.

The Andover sixth graders battled to the title game with earlier victories over Belmont (43-30) and Winthrop (47-20).

The Andover All-Star ninth graders, comprised of players from the strong Andover West (14-2), Central Catholic (10-7) and Andover East (7-5) freshman teams, literally blew Wakefield off the court in the second half after a competitive first half in the quarterfinal round of the Wakefield Invitational.

The victors combined a devastating fast break, a pesky full-court zone press and the eagle-eye shooting of Tim Perry during the rout.

Perry poured through 37 points, as he almost outscored Wakefield by himself, and missed out on a 40-point game when he failed to convert three late free throws.

Dan Sheehan chipped in 11 points, including 9-of-11 from the charity stripe, while others contributing to the offense were Mark Doherty, Bill Weidman, Bill Lane, Craig Hammond, Tim Reilly and Paul Lambers.

Completing the talented ninth grade squad are Tom Lutz, Rich Dunn, Chris Comparato and Dan Carignan.

Awarded Letters

Phil Appleton, Dave Hoffman, Brian O'Dell, Larry Soule and Gerry Tallman of Andover all received varsity letters in wrestling at the recent Winter Sports Awards Banquet at Governor Dummer Academy. The GDA team won the coveted Graves-Kelsey Tournament Championship in February at Brooks School where 17 teams competed for the honor. Appleton (115 lbs.) and Soule (160 lbs.) won third place trophies at the tourney, while O'Dell (167 lbs.) won a fifth place trophy.

PeeWee A's Turn In Outstanding Performance

This past weekend the Andover PeeWee A team went to Cape Cod for the Division I State Tournament as the District II champions. They played outstanding hockey and were certainly competitive as they beat two of the top teams in the state.

Andover and Pembroke had the same win-loss record in the Northeast Region playoffs with Andover missing out on going to the semi-finals through the tie-breaker system. Pembroke lost to Arlington 3-5. Andover soundly shut out Arlington 3-0, but Andover's loss was to Pembroke. Therefore, Pembroke became one of the final four.

On Sunday, Medford became the state champions when they won against Stoneham in the finals. Since Andover beat Arlington (a team who beat Medford) and has also won three out of four contests with Stoneham, it is fair to say that Andover's skaters rank right at the top in Massachusetts. A feat never achieved by an Andover PeeWee A team before.

Andover 3 - Arlington 0

Goalies, Chris Hansberry and James Berberian, amazed the crowd with their performances as they shut out a top contender for the state championship.

Nineteen seconds into the game, Andover shocked Arlington when Chris Sapuppo made an exceptional pass to Kyle McCabe who blasted the puck home past the goalie to score what would be the winning goal. Arlington kept pressing hard, but Andover's Mark Neaves lit the red light when he scored on a rebound from a hard shot by Matt Young. Joe Lyons had begun the play and got an assist. The tension mounted, and Arlington began to show their frustration midway in the second period. Neaves dropped the puck to the point and Pat Breen took a blistering shot on net. Jamie O'Brien was able to deflect the shot around the goalie where it hit the inside of the post and went in, putting Andover ahead 3-0.

Defenseman Peter Trede made a great effort as he got to a rolling puck near the goal line and knocked it out in the nick of time. Andover came on like gangbusters for the rest of the game and made an impossible dream come true.

Andover 5- Canton 4

Canton went ahead rather quickly, but Andover showed their strength by coming from behind to pull another upset. Andover's first goal came when Glenn Allard was stretched out on his stomach and

Celtics Playoff Champs

By Rick Harrison

The Celtics won the playoff championship of the Andover Youth Basketball League, trimming the regular season champion Sixers 54-46 in their title showdown earlier this week at the East Junior High gym.

The two division powers reached the final by winning their semifinal games the previous week, the Celts sneaking past the Pistons 50-49 and the Sixers drilling the Kings 68-30.

The Pistons upended the Kings 61-32 in the consolation game preceding the playoff championship contest.

In the torrid struggle for individual scoring honors, the Celts' Dean Orfanedes edged the Sixers' Joe Hart by two points. Orfanedes finished with 202 points and Hart netted an even 200.

Hockey

whacked a pass from Jamie O'Brien by the goalie.

The second goal was scored shorthanded. Andover kept the puck in the offensive zone and during a lot of action in front of the Canton net, Allard sent the puck to O'Brien who put a high wrist shot in for the score.

Goalies, Chris Hansberry and James Berberian, kept the game in control with more magnificent saves.

In the third period, Chris Sapuppo combined again with Kyle McCabe as he sent the puck to McCabe from behind the net. McCabe thrilled the cheering fans when he put the puck in the open corner for the go-ahead goal.

Dave Riddiford, Joe Lyons, Matt Young, Steve Donovan and Mark Berberian played great offensive hockey. O'Brien was in the action again shooting his own rebound at the goalie. Allard made the connection as he poked the puck enough to put it in for goal number four.

Canton scored their third goal, but, with tremendous effort by Tom Tormey, Andover scored again as he passed to Allard, giving Allard a tournament hat trick. Canton got on the board one more time, but Andover won the hard-fought contest 5-4. Hats off to defensemen Pat Breen, Pete Trede, Chris Sapuppo and Mark Neaves for good heads-up hockey.

Andover 4 - Pembroke 8

Then came the hearbreaker. Andover found themselves behind 2-0 and made great effort work for them. Chris Sapuppo took the puck the length of the ice and took a shot on net. Jamie O'Brien was ready for the rebound and the goal brought the screaming crowd to its feet. Pembroke broke the spell and went ahead 4-1. Tom Tormey took a pass from Mark Neaves and was exciting to watch as he took the puck up the length of the ice where he made a hard angle shot go zipping by the goalie.

Andover fans became ecstatic as the third goal was scored. Matt Young took a shot at the goalie and Kyle McCabe rushed in to jam the rebound by the bewildered goalie's sliding stick.

All fans were standing in awe as Andover tied the game. Sapuppo began the move passing up to Steve Donovan who made a well-placed pass to Glenn Allard who put the puck in. The scoreboard showed 4-4.

The third period was disastrous for Andover as Pembroke scored four times cancelling the one more step up the ladder for the best yet from Andover.

Championship Game

The Celtics and Sixers had several classic battles this winter, and the playoff championship was competitive from start to finish.

The Celts rode six points apiece by Doug Rotondi and Dean Orfanedes to a 12-9 first quarter lead, but the Sixers moved ahead 26-25 by halftime as Joe Hart pocketed eight second period points.

Rotondi flipped through eight points in the pivotal third stanza, as the Celts took the lead for good with a 14-8 run.

The Sixers cut the gap to as few as three points on several occasions in the final session, but the Celts hit 7-of-13 free throw attempts to keep the regular season titlists at bay.

Rotondi and Orfanedes shared game-high scoring honors with 18 points apiece, Jeff Poor added 11 including a pair of dazzling driving lay-ups.

Mike Burke tossed through two key buckets in the fourth quarter, and Rich Bourdelais popped through 3 points.

Other members of the playoff champions' squad are Kevin Walsh, Darrin Currier and Chris Valley.

Lefty guard Gene Sullivan paced the Sixers' offense with 18 points, Joe Hart pocketed 12, Jim Sullivan 6, Jim Fearing 5, Bill Earnshaw 3 and Mark Carroll 2.

were Bob Manning and Nick Lembo.

The Celts hit 14-of-25 free throws and the Sixers on 2-of-11. Both teams finished with 8-3 overall records.

Pistons, 61-32

Consolation Game

Brian Sheehy and Pat Plaehn sparked the Pistons, who finished with a 5-6 record, as they poured through 18 points each against the Kings (1-10).

The Kings, sparked by Sean Trombly, trailed only 18-12 after one period before the Pistons heated up.

The winners stretched the advantage to 35-18 at halftime and 51-24 after three quarters.

Jay Trepanier swished all 8 of his points in the second half. Jon Yezerki contributed 7, Lisa Marcella 6 and Rich Napolitano 4.

Trombly completed his season with a solid 20-point effort, Phil Stocking stuffed 6 points, Russ Lamontagne 4 and Mike DiMeo 2.

The Celtics and Pistons slugged it out for all four periods, with neither team able to open up much

St. Robert's Intermediate Titlists

By Rick Harrison

St. Robert's D won the Intermediate Blue Division championship of the Andover Church Basketball League recently, beating previously undefeated Temple Emanuel 38-27 in their winner-take-all showdown at the West Junior High gym.

St. Robert's D, Temple and Christ Church A all finished with identical 9-1 records, but a special tiebreaker rule installed St. Robert's D as the champ.

St. Robert's D defeated Temple, Temple defeated Christ A, and the schedule did not have St. Robert's D facing Christ A. St. Robert's thus won on the basis of the best record in head-to-head competition among the tri-leaders.

In other recent season-ending Blue Division action, Temple trimmed South A 21-11 and St. Augustine C 22-8, St. Robert's D posted a 31-17 victory over South B, Christ Church B edged St. Robert's, 20-19, St. Augustine D nudged West Parish B, 16-15, Church A trimmed Ballardvale B, 27-12, Ballardvale A outlasted St. Augustine C, 38-30, Christ A slapped South A, 25-8, and Ballardvale A beat West B, 24-16.

The outcome of the title showdown was determined in the third period, when a St. Robert's D second team group of Mike Hein, Jeff Masse, Matt Jarek, Billy Martin, Melanie Danner and Jeff Landry played the entire period and held the taller Temple team to a standstill.

Trailing 19-18 after that third session, St. Robert's D proceeded to outscore Temple 20-8 in the final stanza with Tom Sheehan, Bruce Taylor and Eric Green leading the assault.

Temple Emanuel, hampered considerably by the absence of high-scoring guard Erik Frank, also lost big gun Geoff Bolan on fouls with 4:30 to play.

Sheehan finished as game-high scorer with 13 points, Taylor added 7, Eric Green 6, Yvonne Guzley 4, Jeff Masse 3, Jeff Landry 3, Mike Hein one free throw and Tracy Danner a foul shot.

Bolan pocketed 11 points for Temple Emanuel, Bob Labell 6, Mickey Shallop 4, and single baskets were netted by Mark Hewitt, Andy Greenstein and Steve Gack.

St. Robert's D, 31-17

Bruce Taylor and Yvonne Guzley tossed in 8 points apiece to spark St. Robert's D, which broke open a tight (11-9) game with an 18-4 explosion in the third quarter.

Eric Green and Jeff Masse contributed 4 points each for the winners, while single baskets were notched by Tracy Danner, Tom Sheehan and two free throws by Billy Martin.

Completing the eight-player attack with a single free throw was Matt Jarek.

Chris Eggert emerged as game-high scorer for South B with 15 points, Steve Flanders added a fieldgoal, and other standouts included Leo Fontaine, Jim Hendry, Steve Poor and Mark Rao.

Christ Church B, 20-19

John Russell tossed through a pair of fourth period baskets, lifting Christ B to its tough comeback from behind 20-19 triumph over St. Robert's F.

Upset-minded St. Robert's F led 4-2, 11-18 and 17-16 at the first three checkpoints, but Russell's two buckets offset a pair of free throws by Steve DeVoir of St. Robert's.

Russell paced the balanced C-C attack with 6 points while Tad Lee, Steffan Tomlinson and Bob Ashworth pocketed 4 points apiece.

Eric Williams swished one fieldgoal for the victors.

Steve DeVoir was game-high sharpshooter for St. Robert's F, pumping through 12 points. Brother Greg DeVoir added 3 points, Mike Cincotta 2 and breathing room from opening tap to final buzzer.

The Celts maintained slim leads at each quarter break, inching ahead 10-9 after one period, 29-25 at halftime and 38-38 after three sessions.

The game came right down to the closing seconds, with clutch free throws by Doug Rotondi and Jeff Poor insuring the triumph.

Poor and Dean Orfanedes shared team-high scoring honors for the Celtics with 16 points apiece, Rotondi netted 9, Dave Cox 4, Mike Burke 2, Darrin Currier 2 and Rich Bourdelais a free throw.

Brian Sheehy flooded the cords with 28 points for the Pistons, Pat Plaehn pocketed 10, Rich Napolitano 7 and Jon Yezerski 4.

Sixers, 68-30

Semifinals

The Sixers used a 23-3 second period explosion to blow this game wide open, sending the Kings reeling with four double figure performers.

Joe Hart led the victors attack with 18 points, Nick Lembo and Gene Sullivan flipped through 12 points each, and Bob Manning collected 11 points.

Jimmy Fearing stuffed 8 points, Mark Carroll 6 and Bill Earnshaw 2 to complete the Sixers' charge.

Sean Trombly again paced the Kings with 18 points, Pete Zompa produced 6 points, Tom Hollenbeck 4 and Phil Stocking two free throws.

Paul Van Der Wielen 2.

St. Augustine D, 16-15

Trailing by five points entering the fourth quarter, St. Augustine D rode the offensive heroics of Andy Peck and Paul Dubanowitz to its taut one-point decision over West Parish B.

Peck finished the contest with 10 points, including four in the decisive final period and eight in the second half, while Dubanowitz chipped in 4 points.

Bobby Hughes popped in a big third quarter bucket, and defensive leaders were Scott Lanouette, Pete Caruso, Jason Scarpaci and Dave Rand.

rob DiAdamo and Chris Kew led the West Parish B answering fire, firing through 6 points each, while George Bilger contributed a fieldgoal and John Hess a foul shot.

Doug Bruk and Stewart Rees were other West B stalwarts, as that team bunched nine of its 15 points in the second period.

Christ Church A, 27-12

Once-beaten Christ Church A was never in serious trouble against Ballardvale United B, vaulting to a 13-5 halftime lead and pulling away for good behind Bob Beanland's six-point third quarter eruption.

Beanland and Bart Kalkstein stuffed 6 points apiece for the well-balanced winners, whose eight-player onslaught included 4 points by Jon Pratt and 3 from John Knowles.

Netting single baskets were Dave Lewis, Matt Corbett, Fred Newcombe and Adam Smith.

Bobby Nutter shared game-high laurels with 6 points for BU, Dave Bean was held to 3 points, Mickey Connors 2 and Andy McIntyre a free throw.

Mike Troy and Devon Arsenault were other Ballardvale B standouts.

Temple Emanuel, 21-11

Geoff Bolan poured through 13 points to ignite undefeated Temple to its 21-11 conquest of South A.

Bolan's output would have been enough by itself, but contributing single fieldgoals were Kristen Ceurvels, Bob Labell, Mickey Shallop and Jeremy Kaplan.

Dave Wade and Bobby Schmidt did all the scoring for South A, with Wade popping in 7 points and Schmidt notching 4.

Al Boucher was a defensive standout for South A.

Ballardvale A, 38-30

Ballardvale A inched ahead 20-16 at halftime, then extended its lead to 13 points with a 14-5 third period run sparked by Dave Rehe, Mike Hardock and Andy Meckel.

Rehe and Meckel shared game-high scoring honors for BU with 12 points each, Hardock netted 8 and Jim Ward deposited 5 points. Mike Mooney swished a fourth quarter free throw, and fine floor games were turned in by Glen McLeod, Kim Lowe and Tim Douglas.

Pete Kannam produced seven of his team-high 9 points in the fourth period, when St. Augustine C made a mild comeback.

Pat Hayes collected his 6 points in the opening half while Chris Caltigirone, Mike Fay and Neil Fater added 4 points each.

Sean Gill had a first period fieldgoal and Mike

DeMartino a third quarter foul shot for St. Augustine C.

Christ Church A, 25-8

Christ A bolted to a 1-2 first period lead against South A, and the winners (8-1) never looked back enroute to the triumph.

Adam Smith scored a game-high 7 points to lead seven C-C players into the offensive column.

Bart Kalkstein, Jon Pratt and Bob Beanland notched 4 points each, and other buckets were notched by Brad Wright, John Knowles and Fred Newcombe.

Bob Schmidt had 4 points, Dave Wade 2 and Paul Lussier 2 for South A.

St. Robert's F, 30-24

Greg DeVoir and Dan Fay poured through 10 points apiece, as St. Robert's F (3-6) used a 14-4 second period run as the springboard to its decision over South B.

Steve DeVoir pocketed 4 points, and adding single baskets to the cause were Matt Moynihan, George Willard and Paul Van Der Wielan.

Red-hot Chris Eggert had another sizzling night for South B, tossing through a game-high 18 points, while Jim Hendry stuffed 4 points and Leo Fontaine had a basket.

Eggert collected 10 of his points in the fourth quarter, when South B mounted a mild challenge with a 16-10 run.

Ballardvale A, 24-16

Ballardvale United A (6-4) constructed a 22-8 lead after three periods, and then held off a mild West Parish B rally in the fourth quarter.

Mike Hardock produced his 8 points in the second stanza, Dave Rehe and Andy Meckel contributed 6 points each, Mike Mooney hooped 4, and other standouts were Kim Lowe, Meredith Fisk, Jim Ward and Glen McLeod.

Scott Livermore pumped through 6 points and played a fine all-around game for West B, while John Hess dunked 4 points and solo baskets were swished by George Bilger, Doug Bruk and Rob DiAdamo.

Ballardvale B, 30-23

Dave Bean and Mickey Connors were the big third quarter guns for Ballardvale United B, as that team escaped on a 13-0 spree to sew up its triumph over St. Augustine D.

Bean finished the contest with 17 points, Connors had 6, Devon Arsenault 4, Mike Troy 2 and Andy McIntyre a free throw.

Scott Lanouette hit double figures for St. Augustine D with 10 points, Andy Peck delivered his 8 in the fourth quarter (16-7 run), Pete Caruso netted 3 points and Bobby Hughes a bucket.

Temple Emanuel, 22-8

Temple Emanuel (9-0) kept rolling, holding St. Augustine C to a single free throw in the first half enroute to its 22-8 decision.

Geoff Bolan and Mickey Shallop were the offensive sparkplugs, Bolan netting his 9 points in the second half after Shallop had scored 7 in the opening two periods.

Arching through single buckets for Temple were Andy Greenstein, Scott Godess and Jeremy Kaplan.

Contributing solid defensive performances for the division leaders were Mark Hewitt, Mark Leinson and Steve Gack.

Kevin Foley hooped 4 points, Sean Gill 3 and Chris Caltigirone a foul shot for St. Augustine C, whose other standouts were Mike Fay, Neil Fater and Dave Carrier.

St. Robert's E, 24-17

St. Robert's (6-3) fell behind 12-0 after one period, but raced back to defeat Christ Church B (6-3) by a 24-17 score.

The winners cut their deficit to 15-8 at halftime, moved within 15-14 after three periods, and completed the comeback with a 10-2 fourth quarter surge led by Jeff Brodie and Josh Malitsky.

Malitsky completed the contest with 8 points, Jim Spinelli tossed through 6, Brodie 4, Mike Smith 2, Jim Murphy 2 and Paul DeMarco a brace of free throws.

Steffan Tomlinson and Mark Angelos paced Christ B with 8 and 6 points respectively, while John Russell converted three first period free throws.

Girls Win League Meet

The Andover High indoor track teams travelled to Methuen where the boys' team tied with Chelmsford for fifth place with 20 points. Top point scorer was co-captain, Tim Grams, who placed third in both the 300 yard dash, 35.6, and the mile relay, along with co-captain Jeff Gutermann, Wayne Giles and Joe Keefe, 3:50.1. Also placing for the warriors were Mike Lucey, fourth in the hurdles 7.0, and Carl Schwind, fourth place in the mile, 4:40.6.

The girls' team, although placing second to Billerica in the dual meet season, won the league meet title with 86 points. Billerica came in second with 72 points.

Top point scorer for the girls was co-captain Amy Lander who took home two first places and one second place. She ran the 300 yard dash in 40.6 seconds to place second behind teammate Barbara Cullinan who set a new meet record, as well as breaking her own league record, with a time of 39.2. Lander jumped a personal best of 5'2" in the high jump to win, with co-captain Cynthia Surrentt placing second with 5'0". Lander also combined with co-captain Davynne Williams, Cullinan and Julie Burke to win the mile relay with a new meet and league record time of 4:18.4.

Williams won the 50 yard dash with a new meet record and a tie of the league record in 6.3 seconds.

Other place winners were Surrentt, sixth

Squirt A's Red Hot

Playing perhaps their best hockey of the season, the Andover Squirt A team recorded two wins and one tie over the past week. Good passing, sound position play and overall total team effort were the keys.

Wilmington League Andover 3 - Beverly 3

Last Monday Andover traveled to Essex for a make-up game with Beverly. Both teams played well, but the key to the game was super goaltending by Mike Murnane and Timmy Lane. Time after time they denied Beverly who had some excellent scoring chances. Andover scored first when Matt Adams, assist to Glenn Farnham and Glen Driscoll, fired a low shot into the corner. The period ended with Andover holding a 1-0 lead and feeling very confident.

The second period featured good sustained action as play went from end to end with very few stoppages. Steve McSweeney, Todd Roycroft, Chip Stella and Kenny Leng played super defense. On numerous occasions they broke up rushes at the blue line and fired the puck back into the Beverly end. In the last three minutes of the period, Andover scored twice and Beverly once. Andover's second goal was the result of some fine forechecking by Michael Tiberii, David Sopp and Dukie McNamara. constant pressure by this line forced Beverly to make an errant pass which McNamara picked off, skated around the defense and slid the puck under the Beverly goalie for a two-goal Andover lead.

This lead was short lived as Beverly answered back in less than a minute and the lead was back to one goal.

Less than a minute later, some fine passing by Adams and Driscoll resulted in a breakaway by Farnham. However, before he was able to shoot, he was tripped from behind and awarded a penalty shot. This is a very exciting thing to watch. One on one, shooter against goalie. With his team cheering him on, Farnham skated in on the Beverly goalie. When the goalie came out to challenge him, he faked right, went left around the goalie and fired the puck into the open net and 3-1 Andover lead.

In the third period, Andover continued to play well. Matt Pothier, John Gilmartin and Gary Bleszinski were super. Only some fine goaltending kept them from scoring. However, Beverly, who had just won the District 2 Squirt A championship, did not quit. They scored two quick goals early in the period to tie the game. Both teams played well and deserved the tie.

A tip of the hat to Michael Murnane who played super in goal for Andover.

Andover 8 - Southern N.H. 2

This was the first meeting of the year and Southern New Hampshire hopes it's the last. Andover came out skating and never stopped. Glen Driscoll, assist to Glenn Farnham, opened the scoring early in the first period when he banged in a pass from Farnham who quickly followed with a goal of his own on a nice pass from Brent Raftery.

Andover was off and running. Raftery, assist to Steve McSweeney and Todd Roycroft, scored Andover's third goal.

The second and third periods were no different than the first. Relentless pressure forced So. New Hampshire into many mistakes. Dukie McNamara scored Andover's next two goals with assists to Matt Adams on the first goal and David Sopp and John Gilmartin on the second. On the next shift, Raftery, assists to Kenny Leng and Farnham, upped the score to 6-1. Andover's last two goals were scored by Gary Bleszinski and Matt Pothier. On Bleszinski's goal, Pothier slid a pass across the front and Bleszinski banged it home. On Andover's eighth and final goal, Pothier, assists to Chip Stella and Michael Tiberii, finished off some nice passing with a shot into the top corner.

In net Timmy Lane and Mike Murnane had an easy morning but were up to the task when challenged.

Danvers League

Andover 8 - Haverhill 1

With the playoffs just three weeks away, Andover wanted to show everyone that they would be a team to be reckoned with, and boy, did they ever! From start to finish, Andover was very impressive as they forechecked and backchecked throughout the game. In the first period both teams had a number of good scoring chances and only the excellent goaltending of Andover's Timmy Lane kept Haverhill off the scoreboard. Finally, Andover scored two goals in the last minute of the first period and school was out. The first goal was scored by Glenn Farnham on a nice pass from Brent Raftery. About one minute later, the rolls were reversed with Farnham feeding Raftery and a 2-0 Andover lead.

Early in the second period, Haverhill picked up an errant Andover pass and had a clean breakaway from the red line. Timmy Lane came out and challenged the skater. He met him about ten feet from the net, kicked the puck one way and sent the Haverhill skater flying in the other direction. This seemed to fire up the Andover team who would score three more goals in the period and enjoy a 5-0 lead. All three goals were scored by Brent Raftery who had four in the game. His first goal was unassisted as he stole a pass and fired a high shot into the net. The next one was the result of some fine passing by Chip Stella and Glen Driscoll who set Raftery up for an easy one. His last goal of the period was the result of a school record); Carlene Darby, sixth in the shotput with a throw of 31'1".

Although the league meet finished the season for most of the team, some of the athletes travelled to Harvard University for the state meet. Competing for the girls were Pippi Saalfrank and Patty Messersmith, sixth in hurdles; Davynne Williams, first, and Cynthia Surret in the 50; Barbara Cullinan, sixth, and Amy Lander in the 300; Cathie Batson and Julie Burke in the 600; Sally Bickerton in the mile; Mary Hurley in the two mile (new school record 12:01.6); Cynthia Surret, third with 5'4" for a new school record, and Lander in the high jump; the mile relay team of Williams, Burke, Bickerton and Lander with a fifth place and a new school record of 4:07.9. The girls finished in fifth place overall with 19 points.

The boys competing were Jeff Guttermann and Phil Vanschalkwijk, 50; Mike Lucey, hurdles; Tim Grams, fifth, 33.7, and Joe Keef, 300; John Hevehan, 1000; Rich Desmaris, mile; Carl Schwind, two mile; Dave Oskar, high jump; the mile relay team of Guttermann, Joe Glynn, Wayne Giles and Keefe, placing fifth in 3:36.4. The boys ended with four points.

And still the season wasn't over for Misses Williams, Surret, Lander and Cullinan. On Saturday, March 6, they travelled again to Harvard to run the 4x220 yard relay in the Easterns. The majority of the teams represented Massachusetts, New York and New Jersey. The girls did very well, ending up sixth in the finals.

Honored as All-Stars both in the Merrimack Valley Conference and in the Lawrence Eagle Tribune were the mile relay team of Davynne Williams, Julie Burke, Cathie Batson, Amy Lander and Barbara Cullinan; Williams in the 50 yard dash, Cullinan in the 300 yard dash and Cynthia Surret in the high jump.

David Lietch

On Hockey Team AT Plymouth

David Lietch, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lietch of Andover, is a member of the Plymouth State College ice hockey team.

The 6' freshman is the backup goalie for the Panthers.

"We've had a fine season, considering all our injuries," says PSC head coach Dave Webster, who has the best all-time winning percentage (.771) among New England ice hockey coaches. In his seven years as head coach of the Panthers, Webster has established a 44-16-3 record.

"We've scored a little more this year than last year," says Webster, whose team finished 10-4-1 last year. "But we had some problems on defense."

Lietch is a 1981 graduate of Andover High School where he played hockey and baseball.

fine play by Steve McSweeney who kept the puck in at the point and found Brent open near the corner of the net.

There was no doubt as to who was going to win. The only unknown was the score. Mike Murnane was now playing goal for Andover and Haverhill was having no better luck with him than they did with Lane.

The line of David Sopp, Matt Adams and Michael Tiberii couldn't buy a goal. At times they kept Haverhill pinned in their own end for over a minute but just couldn't score.

The third period offered no relief to Haverhill. Just 28 seconds into the period Matt

Squirts

Pothier, assists to Gary Bleszinski and Todd Roycroft, upped the score to 7-0.

Andover got a couple of penalties and this looked like a good chance for Haverhill to break the shutout. However, this was not the case as McSweeney skated the length of rink, turned the defense and scored a short-handed goal. Pothier then followed with his second goal of the game, assists to John Gilmartin and Bleszinski, and Andover enjoyed an 8-0 lead with only a few minutes left to play.

With only ten seconds left to play, Haverhill ruined the shutout on an excellent shot into the far corner.

This was a good team effort with hard work and positional play paying off. A tip of the hat to goalie Timmy Lane, who played an excellent game.

Road Race

The 1st Annual MEC Challenge Road Race on Sunday, April 4, starting at Andover High, offers many attractive features. There is a choice of 6.2 or 2.8 mile distances; t-shirts to the first 200 entrants; more than 60 trophy awards; and the opportunity to run individually or as a team. Both events start at 11 a.m. at the Andover High School gym.

The Merrimack Education Center, which provides research and training services to educators in 22 local communities, is running the race as part of its efforts to promote physical and well being among teachers, students and administrators. The application provides runners with the option of representing their school district, and special trophies will be awarded to district teams, counting the scores of the top three finishers in various categories. Non-school district teams, such as running clubs, are eligible for a separate category of trophies. In both races, there will be first, second and third place awards for individuals in five different age categories. Applications are still available from John Hess, Merrimack Education Center, 101 Mill Rd., Chelmsford.

By dropping all of their leaves, deciduous plants reduce their exposure to cold weather. Metabolic activity continues, at a greatly reduced level, only in the protected core or in the sheltered roots, Massachusetts Audubon tells us.

"the critical path in each student's education."

To "preserve more of what we offer in the regular classroom program," schoolman Donald Robb recommended taking a sharper look at several accounts, including secretarial support services, transportation, athletics, and health services.

Under an "austerity budget," the schools may be forced to "do some things that are distasteful, but they have to be done," Robb said.

To Robb's list, new committeeman Robert Smith added the business office, supervisors, guidance and evaluation, custodial, and heating oil accounts (on the last, taking into account the "deflation factor" in current oil prices).

Poore suggested "putting a year's freeze" on some purchases, such as textbooks, to save money. "It's a management trick, but it saves some money," she said.

Newly-elected Chairman Richard Neal, however, said that might be "delaying the inevitable," and simply lead to larger replacement costs in future years.

He agreed with Giammusso that keeping class sizes "reasonable" should be a top priority, although he did not define reasonable. "That's as far as we can go tonight."

The chairman asked for the administration's report on the above requests in three parts: the cost of the current level of service; the cost of maintaining a minimum, "adequate" service; and the cost of eliminating the service, where that would be possible.

With only four weeks until town meeting, Neal said the committee will probably meet at least once a week to get the $12.9 million budget in shape.

He urged interested townspeople to make their priorities known to the committee, whether by attending meetings, calling individual committee members, or putting their thoughts in writing.

Merrimack Attracts Warriors

Ed Kelley and Tim Hart, two standout performers on Andover High's championship basketball team this past season, will be continuing their efforts for another Warrior group next season.

Both have been accepted to Merrimack College in North Andover on four-year scholarships, according to Bert Hammell, head basketball coach.

Hammell said he was delighted to have the two Andover stars coming to Merrimack and expects them to be solid contributors to the program.

Kelley and Hart paced the Andover High Warriors to successful seasons during the past three years. In the 1980-81 season, the Warriors went to the state finals, bowing to Cambridge Rindge and Latin School and its seven-foot center, Pat Ewing in the final moments of the championship game.

This year the team also went to post-season tournament play losing out in an earlier round.

Aluminum Drive

Saturday, May 1, is the date of the town's next aluminum drive to be held behind Town Hall from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. All 100 percent aluminum items are suitable. Check for steel content with a magnet before setting aside beer and soft drink cans for recycling. Some brands are even labeled "pure aluminum."

Kampus Kuts—Complete Unisex Styling Shop

You will find a full range of beauty services at Kampus Kuts from stylists who "care." Located in the lower level of the Andover Inn, Chapel Avenue, on the campus of Phillips Academy, Kampus Kuts features the latest techniques in hair cutting, perming and color for all members of the family.

The stylists at Kampus Kuts are interested in helping you achieve "the" look for you — a hairstyle that you can wear and enjoy for your lifestyle. If you would like a consultation, feel free to call or stop by to talk to the stylists. You'll love relaxing in this friendly little shop surrounded by stone walls and lawns of the Inn.

Let Kampus Kuts' stylists pamper you with a new perm, a blow cut, frosting, highlighting or cellophane colors. Additional services include waxing (instead of tweezing) for hair removal on eyebrows, etc., also personalized manicuring. Senior citizen discounts are available Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Marie, owner of Kampus Kuts, trained at the Vidal Sassoon Academy in London. She attends all the New York styling shows and keeps up to date on the newest cuts and techniques. Stylist Priscilla White of Andover is especially good with long hair, doing basket weaving and French braiding, in addition to punk hair cuts. Stylist Joanne Smith features men's hair styling in her work. And new to Kampus Kuts is stylist Sherri Baldwin.

New at Kampus Kuts is Cellophane Colors by Sebastian. Leave it natural or go red! go green! go purple! These are wonderful permanent colors that condition your hair and give it body and shine.

At Kampus Kuts your hair is cut according to your bone structure and facial features. It is an individualized cut, geared to your lifestyle. And only the finest products are used at Kampus Kuts. They feature K.M.S. and Redken. Remember, the stylists at Kampus Kuts feel that to you it may be just another cut or beauty service, but to them, it's their reputation each time you enter their shop. SEX DISCRIMINATION OUTLAWED

The Equal Credit Opportunity Act is now in effect. It forbids creditors from discriminating against applicants for loans on the basis of sex or marital status. Its goal is not to guarantee credit to everyone (if you're a bad credit risk, your loan can still be refused) but your access to credit is now based solely on your ability to pay.

The law does not prohibit a creditor from knowing your marital status; in some cases he has to know it to protect his rights as a creditor, in liens and title transfers, for instance. The law aims at such things as making sure a woman's creditworthiness is judged on the same basis as a man's and that husband and wife joint credit accounts will provide each of them with an independent credit history.

The new law will also prohibit practices that would make married persons more creditworthy than unmarried or separated persons, require credit application to reveal information about childbearing plans; exclude alimony and child-support payments in evaluating creditworthiness.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Sunset Rock Estates Gets Initial Approval

Preliminary plans for a 10-home subdivision off Porter Road, "Sunset Rock Estates," won the Planning Board's approval Tuesday night, with no objections from two spectators who were present.

Chairman David Gravalles said the only condition attached to the approval was that when the developer, Edmond Hammond of Hidden Field, returns to the board with definitive plans, he should be prepared to show that the development will not have drainage problems.

The planners have not yet approved Hammond's request for a special permit to cluster for the development; they have a May 24 deadline for that approval. Gravalles said the board is waiting for a written explanation of who would own the permanent green area in the clustered development.

Art In Bloom

Art in Bloom, a three-day festival that heralds spring with flowers and art, will be celebrated at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, April 27, 28 and 29.

Seminar

Substance abuse among young people will be the topic of a seminar for pediatric, emergency room and school nurses, teachers and counselors from 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 14, at Lawrence General Hospital (LGH), Lawrence.

The program will include information on psychological and physically addictive substances and symptoms which may indicate drug use.

Faculty for the course will be Joyce Russell, RN, MEd, LGH director of education and an expert on adolescents, and Donna Rivera, counselor at the Greater Lawrence Mental Health Association.

Plans for the site, drawn by Paul Ferrante of Dana F. Perkins and Associates, include 10 houses on a 13-acre site, seven of them clustered and three with frontage on an existing street. Permanent green space, required in a cluster development, will be located near the back of the site.

During a recent public hearing on the plans, neighbors expressed some fear that the new homes will worsen drainage problems in the area. Some abutters also questioned the proposed location of the green area.
